New Move Designed To Help Insure Solid Recovery From Nation's Unemployment Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is planning additional aid for the economy even though some government experts now expect business to regain its pre-recession peak by early summer.

The new moves will be designed to help ensure a solid recovery and a broader attack on the persistent unemployment problem.

Board has repeatedly emphasized the seriousness of structural unemployment. Suggested remedies have included the retraining of displaced workers and subsidies to help them move to communities where they could get work.

Dillon, addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors last week made these two major points about the economy:

1. "Unless we act energetically, recovery is likely to be sluggish, just as the decline was gradual and slow."

2. The unemployment situation shows no sign of improving as rapidly as the over-all economy.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges told the National Press Club yesterday that 6 percent of the labor force may be unemployed for another year or two because the economy isn't growing fast enough to absorb all the new workers plus those made jobless through technological advances.

France Sets Off Fourth Atomic Blast

Speculation That Country Now Has Portable A-Bomb

PARIS (AP) France staged her fourth atomic test blast in the Sahara today, and a government announcement aroused speculation that she had succeeded in constructing a portable A-bomb.

The French scientists have been trying to achieve a bomb capable of being transported by air, thus giving France military atomic capability.

The announcement today said the explosion was the last of the above - ground atomic tests of the French program in North Africa. This was taken as an indication that the miniaturization program had been successful.

Government sources said the explosion at Reggane, deep in the Sahara, was another tower shot of "weak" power. They added that "all precautions have been taken so that radioactive fallout poses no danger to populations."

Announcement of the blast startled Frenchmen absorbed in the Algerian crisis. With France braced for possible conflict with forces following the insurgent generals who control Algiers, Oran and Constantine, the test struck a bizarre note. Reggane is 600 miles south of Algiers and easily accessible only by plane.

If today's test followed former procedure, the atomic device, probably a small bomb, was set off atop a 300-foot steel pylon while atomic experts observed it from thick blockhouses nearby.

'Talking Drums' Will Sound at Churches

Message Will Dramatize Methodist 'Bishop's Appeal for Africa' Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — The eerie boom-boom of jungle "talking drums" will sound in 39,000 Methodist churches across the country this Sunday.

The message of the drums, Africa's ancient and effective system for relaying news from village to village, is one of distress: "People of God! Give us help."

This plea is part of a crash program to obtain doctors, food and funds to aid the troubled Congo.

To dramatize its "Bishop's Appeal For Africa," the Methodist Church has provided recordings to all its congregations, including the drumbeat signals and a narration by television commentator Walter Cronkite.

Society Catastrophe

"The earthquake that is shattering human values in Africa is a continuing society catastrophe which threatens all Africa," says Bishop Newell S. Booth, head of Methodist work in the Congo.

"We must help Africa's Christians deal with it."

The Congo, for 100 years a bastion of African missionary work, has 6 million Christians in a population of 13 million. But chaos attending independence has upset much of the order of church, medical care and sustenance.

"About 200,000 people have been displaced, driven from their homes in the central Congo and forced southward where they have neither homes, nor work nor food," said Bishop Booth. "Hundreds are dying of starvation."

Churches are air-lifting food to these stricken groups, but supplies are short, and workers on the scene report starvation rampant. One estimate put deaths from this cause at 200 daily.

About 40 Protestant missionary organizations have joined in forming a cooperative "Congo Protestant Relief Agency," which has shipped large quantities of aid to the region.

It is recruiting 100 additional doctors, and seeking a half-million dollars to bolster its aid program. Most of the Congo's 700 pre-independence doctors have left the country. Only about 225 are still there.

Hawley was serving a subpoena for Mature in connection with a divorce hearing Thursday between Dorothea Edwards, 21, former actress, and Jonathan Edwards, 39, electronics firm executive. Each charges the other with adultery.

Wall Collapses, Injures Three

Concrete Blocks Tumble at School Just 2 Years Old

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Three seventh grade pupils were injured Monday when a section of a concrete block wall in the Audubon Junior High School gymnasium collapsed.

Bolted to Wall

Carol Nummer, 14; Sandra Decker, 12, and Christine Sarnetemo, 12, were swinging on rings attached to the wall when it collapsed, dropping them about 10 feet.

Authorities said Carol and Sandra were the most seriously hurt. Carol had a concussion and Sandra contusions and a broken toe. Christine was released. They were in a 40-member class taking part in gym activities when the wall collapsed.

The ring apparatus was bolted to the wall on the west side of the gymnasium in the 2-year-old school.

A 16-foot section of the wall that extends down from the ceiling seven feet broke away as Carol ad-justed the ring ropes for the other girls. Mrs. Shirley Brusky, the instructor, lifted a 200-pound section of the wall off Sandra's foot. The wall section that col-lapsed was separated from a solid masonry bearing wall by about eight inches.

"I was starting to do somersaults on the rings when they started to jerk up and down," Christine said. She said she let go and fell to the floor, clear of the falling wall.

City officials ordered Monday that no gymnasium equipment attached to walls in any Milwaukee schools be used until an investigation has fixed the cause of the accident.

Gasoline Tax to Stay At 4 Cents on Gallon If Congress Approves

Committee Recommends Levy Remain to Pay Road Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal tax on your gasoline will continue at 4 cents a gallon if Congress follows the lead of the House Ways and Means Committee. And Congress usually does.

The committee Monday approved a compromise bill to send an additional $300 million a year into the fund which finances the pay-as-you-go federal superhighway program.

Without such a boost, Congress was told, the program might stretch out as much as five years beyond 1972, when the 41,000-mile network of superhighways is scheduled to be finished.

Beside extending the one-cent "temporary" part of the gasoline tax scheduled to expire July 1, the tax-writing committee approved a series of tax increases on truck operations and voted to divert from the general fund to the highway fund the proceeds of a half the excise tax on trucks and buses.

Funds Divide

At present the two funds divide the 10 per cent tax. Under the committee plan the highway fund would get it all. Passenger automobile excises would not be affected.

Spokesmen for truck management and labor, who complained that President Kennedy's original recommendations would have dealt their industry a cruel blow, won substantial points in the final compromise.

The increased taxes on trucks and the commodities they use add up to about $150 million a year, instead of about $300 million as Kennedy recommended. The motor fuel tax extension is estimated to be worth $600 million a year.

General Treasury

The other $150 million, in effect, comes out of the general treasury as a result of the excise tax switch, and therefore increases the Kennedy administration's budget balancing problems. The administration asked Congress not to make any such move.

The committee turned down Kennedy's proposal to step up the tax on diesel fuel, used by trucks, from 4 to 7 cents a gallon.

It voted for these hikes in taxes affecting trucks:

Increase from $1.50 to $3 per thousand pounds in the use tax

Will Expedite Cases Faster

County to Get New Court

BY REINY WESSING
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It is hoped that after Jan. 1, 1962, court cases in Outagamie County will be expedited, for on that day Wisconsin's new court reorganization act goes into effect, giving the county four courts of record instead of three.

There will be a circuit court and three branches of the county court, instead of a circuit court, county court and municipal court.

The third branch of the county court will come into being that day, and will be presided over by Raymond P. Dohr, who won the judgeship in the April 4 election over Appleton's City Atty. Don Jurey.

Three Branches

The present county court will become Branch No. 1, with Judge Stanley A. Staidl presiding. Municipal Court will become Branch No. 2, with Judge Oscar J. Schmieg presiding. Staidl and Schmieg both won re-election on April 4. Circuit court will remain unchanged.

Outagamie County was one of the first in the state to get a municipal court, created by special legislation in 1907. The special larger number of cases result that need to be litigated.

An ever increasing number of these are expected to be traffic arrests, with more and more of the offenders fighting the charge in court to keep their drivers' licenses. This is particularly true of traveling men, who depend on their cars for a living.

Population Ratio

Some jurists contend there should be a court for every 50,000 population. If that's an accurate criterion, then Outagamie County is going to be a little over-supplied for the present.

The county's 1960 census is 101,794. For all practical purposes another 1,653 can probably be added to that for the part of the City of Appleton that is in Calumet County. Many court cases, particularly violations of city ordinances, will be litigated here rather than in Chilton.

A tremendous growth has been predicted for the entire Fox Cities area, but not all of it will be in Outagamie County.

Winnebago County, with a population of 107,928, has not asked for an additional court. When the reorganization act goes into effect it will have a circuit court and two branches of the county court. Branch No. 2 of the county court will be the former municipal court.

The county board there has taken the attitude that three courts of record are sufficient, and the county bar association has taken no position on whether another court should be requested.

Establishing another court would necessitate a building program at the Winnebago courthouse, something the supervisors want to avoid if possible.

The supervisors are hoping that the cities and larger villages in the county will establish municipal justice of the peace courts to handle smaller cases, thus eliminating part of the load on the higher courts. Under the reorganization act cities, villages and towns have the privilege of establishing such municipal JP courts. They will have wider jurisdiction than ordinary justices of the peace will have under the new act.

Brown County Courts

If the cities and villages decide not to create municipal justice of the peace courts the county can always request a third county court through special legislation, the supervisors report.

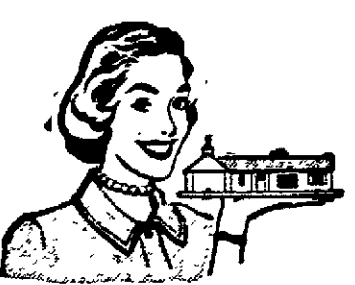

Brown County, with a population of 125,082, is in the process of requesting a third county court now, through special legislation. It appears the request will be approved, giving the county five courts of record.

It now has a circuit court, county court and municipal court. Under the new act it will have two branches of the circuit court and two branches of the county court. The fifth court will be the third branch of the county court if the enabling legislation passes.

Applicant for Law License Must Say if He's Red

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Supreme Court ruled today the states may deny licenses to practice law to applicants who refuse to answer questions as to whether they have been connected with the Communist party.

It held a state may disbar an attorney for refusing to answer some questions in a judicial inquiry into solicitation of legal business — sometimes called ambulance chasing.

The high court split 5-4 in coming to these conclusions in cases from California, Illinois and New York.

Justice Harlan wrote the majority opinion in all the cases. Leading the dissenters was Justice Black, joined by Chief Justice Warren and Justices Douglas and Brennan.

The first of the cases decided had been before the court before. It was that of Raphael Konigsberg of Los Angeles who has been seeking a license to practice law in California since his graduation from the University of Southern California in 1953. Konigsberg refused to tell bar examiners whether he had been a Communist party member.

County Colleges Fight to Survive

2-Year Teacher Training Schools Likely to Disappear or Change

BY JAMES SCOTTON
MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's 22 county teachers colleges, many of which have been in existence for generations, are in a struggle for survival. Most of these teachers are in the state's rural areas and right now Wisconsin would find it impossible to do without them. In 1957 Watson estimated that 80 percent of the state's elementary two-year teacher training colleges were in the not too distant future of count y superintendents were trained in part at county colleges. County college supporters recognize that most states officially require four years of training to begin teaching. But practically all go right on hiring those with less training because of the teaching shortage, they add. Generally these officials support the idea of requiring four years of training for teachers. But they also support the present law, which allows a county college graduate to teach if he gains the four-year degree within seven years.

That sums up the arguments of Watson and other educators who are supporting legislative moves to bar future graduates of the way," pleaded a Lincoln County county colleges from teaching college student. Many of these students—a good man of them older persons hoping to start a teaching career—have journeyed to the Capitol to tell legislators that the seven-year leeway gives them the financial young people also," said Mrs. C. R. Gilbertson of Janesville, representing the American Association of University Women at a recent legislative hearing. In 42 states beginning teachers are required to have four-year degrees, according to the National Education Association (NEA). Wisconsin ranks 28th in teacher preparation, with 40 per-

Formation of a Wisconsin Education Research Association was discussed at a conference recently at Oshkosh State College and its first formal meeting will be held in the fall. Leading the discussion on a constitution were, left to right, Dr. Gerald Gleason, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee; Dr. Roger E. Guiles, Oshkosh State College president; Dr. Charles U. Frailey, Wisconsin Education Association; William Ernst, of the State Department of Public Instruction; and Fred Schnell, Sheboygan, president of the Wisconsin Elementary School Principals Association.

To Your Good Health Combination of Symptoms Give Clues to Bronchiectasis

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Bronchiectasis is a disease of symptoms is usually what a physician looks for. A group of symptoms gives the answer whereas a single symptom can be extremely misleading. Any way, with bronchiectasis, which is a dilation of the bronchial tubes or the smaller branches of them, the confirmation is often made by X-ray. An ordinary chest X-ray may show signs that are suggestive of this disease but a special type, called a bronchogram, is required for a positive answer. A bronchogram, also called "lung mapping," involves the introduction of fluid into the affected areas, the fluid showing in the X-ray the "puddling" which is characteristic in the dilated passages.

Dr. Molner

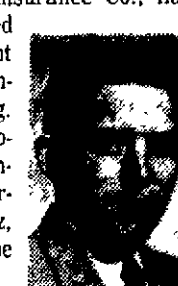

gammie, Polk, Richland, Sauk, Sheboygan, Taylor, Vernon, Waushara and Wood. In addition, Door and Kewaunee counties jointly operate a county college as do Racine and Kenosha counties. Outagamie Enrolls 47 These 22 colleges have 1,264 students and 114 instructors. They expect to enroll over 1,450 this fall. Outagamie County Teachers College at Kaukauna has four full time and one part time teachers for its 47 students. The three students who graduated in January and the 24 expected to receive two-year diplomas in June all have signed teaching contracts for next school year. The campus elementary school at which future teachers practice has an enrollment of 28. (The college's 1961 budget is $35,700, of which $21,500 is to come from the state and $9,200 by county property taxes. The other $5,000 is collected by the college itself.)

Serve Rural Schools This June the county colleges expect to graduate 551 teachers, down 20 from 1960. About half will teach in their home counties; almost all will teach somewhere in the state's rural school system, many in one of the nearly 2,000 one room schools still remaining. County colleges usually have a single building which also is used for community meetings. But Door-Kewaunee College at Algoma and Racine-Kenosha College at Union Grove have dormitory buildings. Faculty size ranges from three for 43 students in Buffalo County to eight for 128 students at Racine-Kenosha. The largest county college, Racine-Kenosha, will graduate 51 in June.

Class of Eight The smallest college, Waushara, will have 22 students and will graduate eight teachers this year. All staff members are qualified Wisconsin teachers, almost all with four-year degrees. Some hold advanced degrees. Because the state provides over half of the county college budgets, there is control of both the curriculum and instructor standards by state officials. But these officials say so much in teaching methods has to be jammed into the two year course, that little time is left over for giving the future teachers a broad background in their subjects. Seventy years ago a county college supporter called them "not a cure-all" but "a long step in advance." Many educators believe the county colleges no longer are able to keep up with the giant steps being taken in modern education.

cannot be expected to help. If surgery is needed, then go ahead confidently. In bronchiectasis, the patient's outlook is five times as good with surgery as without it. For the final questions I don't know about liquor, but I certainly will say that smoking certainly will aggravate bronchiectasis, and the "continuous cold" is quite characteristic. So without any ifs, ands or buts, I decidedly say: Stop smoking.

No Cure for Vitiligo NOTE TO L. M.: There is no cure for vitiligo. Modern drugs sometimes help very much; sometimes they don't. And sometimes vitiligo goes away spontaneously. In any event, it is not dangerous or harmful. It just has an odd appearance.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20c in coin to cover handling. (Copyright, 1961)

Inside Labor There's No Business Like Space Business

BY VICTOR RIESEL
CLEVELAND — There is no business like space ship business, you realize when you talk to the men who know the fuels and tools of extra-terrestrial travel. Tens of thousands of new jobs already have been created in the sample manufacture — of lightweight space suits, thin "skinned" inflatable huge sausage-like balloons in which to repair a space vehicle. There is also the development of metals which can take 4,800 degree heat when hitting the earth's atmosphere.

Riesel

They reckon that's the minimum temperature which a manned space craft will have to withstand if its astronaut wants to pilot it back to a specific space port here on earth. However, that's a long way off because no metal yet developed can stand the heat for the length of time required for direct steep descent.

So at best, now, a piloted space ship would have to glide in easy and the best it could do would be to aim for a target as big as North and Central America combined. Space Industry Booming For the best view of the space ship industry — without the personal guidance of Yuri Gagarin, of course, — look at the General Electric Missile and Space Vehicle Dept. in Philadelphia. Three years ago, a company official discloses, employment was zero in this field. By 1960 there were 6,000 working there and 2,000 working on nose cones in Burlington, Vt. Today the total tops 12,000, it was reported.

Furthermore, at the beginning all work was on military space projects. Today this comes only to 41 per cent. By 1965, GE expects to be devoting some 75 per cent of this expanding department's experimentation and production to space-manned equipment.

Space Drydock's Set What sort of equipment will GE and other outer space companies be developing? Spatial emergency drydocks, for example. If you want it directly from a scientist himself, here is what E. J. Merriam, a GE project engineer, has reported: "The drydocks could be as simple as a plastic 'sausage skin' drawn over and around the craft

Piano Auditions Planned at School

George E. Perry, music composer and professor of piano and theory at Wisconsin State College, Whitewater, will judge piano auditions at St. Mary School Wednesday and Thursday. Perry studied at Lawrence College, received his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and is listed in 1961 "Who's Who in Music."

Man, Wife Laugh Thief Out of Store

BETHPAGE, N. Y. (AP)—Rosario Catalano and his wife, Helen, have a new system for foiling robberies—laugh them right out of your store. That's exactly what the couple did when a man wearing a paper bag over his head entered their drugstore and announced with gun in hand "Stick 'em up, this is a holdup." "There was this clown with a paper bag over his head," Catalano said. "I looked at my wife, — and she looked at me and then we started to laugh." "You think this is a big joke?" the gunman inquired sheepishly. "Yep," answered Catalano between laughs. The gunman shook his head, turned and left.

Lesson From Cuba

Whatever the whole story behind the fiasco of the "invasion" of Cuba, the United States government — and future governments — should have learned two lessons. If we are going to aid a rebellion against a tyrant, it should be a successful one. And the situation that led to the necessity for a revolt should never have been allowed to develop.

The whole Cuban affair still is clouded in mystery. We do not know whether the Central Intelligence Agency really had a hand in it, whether the Cuban rebel leaders themselves were so split by rival ideologies and jealousies that they could not unite, whether the Guatemalan president really feared returning Reds would prevent the launching after a few weeks. Neither do we know whether there are imminent new landings, how many escaped into the Cuban mountains, how strong and well-led they are. After all, Castro was one of a reported 11 survivors of just such a landing when Batista held the mainland.

But we do know that, whether we intervene or not, we will be so branded. We know now that a great many people in the world recognize force as the primary source of control. We should at long last have grown past our adolescent desire to be loved around the world. This is not the century for world rule by means of a popularity contest. There is a hideous beast at large, ever devouring, ever growing and there is not time to reason with his prospective victims.

In the purely practical aspect we do not dare again allow any territory in this hemisphere to be placed, even doubtfully, in the sphere of influence of the Soviet Union. The reason is not merely that we would lose face around the world. Russia must not be placed in a position whereby it has to fight for something in this territory. Russia will fight for Hungary or Poland or Albania; it dares not risk their allegiance elsewhere. Russia is not yet ready to fight for Berlin thus our strong stand in that area has not been challenged except in the bluff and bluster field.

But if Russia should come to feel that the defeat of Castro in Cuba would be a serious defeat for the Soviet Union and so recognized around the world, we would face a serious situation. We may suspect that it was concern that such a situation already had come which led to the confusion and apparent disputes at high levels in Washington about our role in the Cuban situation.

The Soviet Union does not mind being defeated in the United Nations. The labels of tyrant and aggressor which have been hurled at it for decades bother it little. We should also note that some of the leaders of the neutral nations are not upset by the epithets either. They are more interested in being on the winning side than necessarily the kindest.

"Our restraint is not inexhaustible," President Kennedy warned. The warning should be directed most especially at the other nations in this hemisphere who play footsie with the Communists and seek to use them against us for their own ends. Nonintervention is a nice term and we could happily live with any sort of tyranny in other American nations if they kept their wars at home. But when their ties are to the Soviet Union through ideology or military aid, our security is threatened.

That message should ring loudly and clearly to the Latin American people. If it smacks of imperialism and Yankee pressure, so be it.

The Health Program and Social Security

The American people have heard over and over that the medical care program for the aged should be carried out under the Social Security system because there, with a small increase in the Social Security tax on employers and employees, the funds would be provided without a general tax on the public. The inference is that the Social Security system is a form of paid-up insurance and a way of saving money so that the elderly will not be a burden on their children or the public.

Ray M. Peterson, vice-president and associate actuary of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, says this claim, that the Social Security program possesses many of the "unique characteristics of voluntary private insurance which people have learned to value highly, is misleading." He declares it is a mistaken idea that Social Security benefits are paid out of accumulated reserves, similar to private insurance programs. "The truth is, he says, the Social Security program is financed almost entirely on a pay-as-you-go basis with the benefits paid out of current income.

"No reserve is accumulated, no element of prepayment is involved. Money is raised as and after payees become eligible to receive benefits. In this latter sense pay-as-you-go is really a postpaid system of financing," he says. The fiscal soundness of a government program depends on the taxing power of the government. Mr. Peterson declares. Furthermore, he claims that 80 per cent of Social Security taxes which are used for the old age portion of the program would buy for the new entrants 49 to 60 per cent more in old age benefits under an insurance company group annuity program. The other 20 per cent of the payment goes to survivor and disability benefits.

He says the true nature of the Social Security financing is indicated by the difference between benefits owed to current beneficiaries and the amount of money in the trust fund. If the taxes paid into the fund had been stopped by Congress last year, he says, "the $20.2 billion in the fund would have paid only 23 per cent of the $88.3 billion of obligations to current recipients." And if tax contributions are cut off in 1965, "the estimated $23.1 billion which will be in the fund will pay only 20 per cent of the $114.2 billion benefit indebtedness owed to the then current beneficiaries."

Thus, he says, there will be nothing left over for those who have paid taxes to the program but have not yet qualified for benefits. Those who become employed in the future and their employers will pay more in taxes than the workers will receive in benefits because they must bear a growing burden of indebtedness. This indebtedness will continue to grow because most present workers and those now receiving benefits will have contributed with their employers a sum less than the actual obligations.

Americans will have to pay interest on this debt forever since the only way to reduce it is for a given generation to build up a huge reserve over and above the present payments solely to meet the program obligations, he points out. It is unrealistic to expect anything like this to happen, he adds.

Due to the payment of unearned benefits, the debt has climbed from $150 billion in 1952 to about $300 billion at present. It will go even higher if Congress adds to the program without a tax increase on present workers high enough to meet the additional cost.

Peterson says that adding medical care to the Social Security program would not only alter the original concept that each person must contribute for a minimum period of time before he is entitled to benefits, but it also would add between $20 billion and $30 billion to the "permanent Social Security debt on which future generations and their employers need to pay interest forever."

The fight over the financing of medical aid to the needy is clearly on a political basis. Politicians are anxious to promise benefits but they dislike to levy the taxes to pay for them. Consequently the idea of tucking the bill away somewhere among the supposed billions in the Social Security fund is very appealing. Nevertheless, from the fair view of an actuary it is not a wise thing to do. What is proposed is merely to start the benefits now while the politicians need the votes and let the people pay for it later as they may. Our great-grandchildren may be able to vote but they will not be able to vote for or against today's politicians.

Second Thoughts

Now that excitement has died in the free world concerning the Russian man-in-space flight, scientists and observers are beginning to wonder whether we all have been somewhat gullible. There are nagging inconsistencies in many of the reports of the flight. A few writers are daring to question in print whether the whole thing could be a hoax.

Gagarin says he saw the earth but he doesn't say how in a ship that was said to be without windows or portholes. He reports about divisions of fields and collective farms from a distance where the ability to see such lines is dubious. He says he was over Latin America when it has been shown he could not have been. The Soviet Union says the space ship landed. Observers say Gagarin parachuted down.

These all are inconsistencies that perhaps could be cleared up when the Soviet Union releases a clear explanation. But the Russians have clamped down the usual secrecy lid. This, too, is understandable in a totalitarian government.

But the readiness of all the world to accept the Russian word for the flight is a little strange. The layman assumes that the scientists have checked the claim for authenticity. But the scientists have said only that the Russian orbited another satellite and brought it back. Perhaps our own tracking systems have indicated that a man was aboard and we do not want to reveal how astute the systems are.

There are a lot of unanswered questions. In the light of general acceptance, we do not think the Russians are about to give out the answers.

Says We Fail to Run News Stories That Damage U. S. Image Abroad

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Enclosed is an editorial from the New York Times of Sunday, April 16, 1961. It cites three events of some interest and importance that have occurred in this country within the past month. To the best of my knowledge none of them has been reported in the Post-Crescent although they are significant for at least the reasons given in the editorial. Would it be possible for the Post-Crescent to allocate some of the space now devoted to recounting murder trials from California to Virginia, which have little importance in themselves, for reporting this kind of event?

At present most of us can justly plead ignorance of some very unpleasant incidents that have occurred in this democratic republic, and for which we are all held responsible whether we like it or not. While we wonder why American aid and American ways are not more eagerly accepted in some parts of the world, it might be helpful to have information on hand that would indicate plausible reasons and even possible corrective action.

THE AMERICAN IMAGE

There is a great deal of talk nowadays about "projecting the image of the United States." This means that if others see us as we really are, our prestige and influence in international affairs will be even greater than they are today. The idea is intriguing, but unfortunately in a contending and jealous world our vices may get more attention than our virtues. A case in point is the dread-

Menasha Citizens Rally to Cause

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for April 25, 1961.

On Monday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in Menasha near the Liberty pole, there being no hall large enough to accommodate the gathering.

The feeling was deep and earnest. All party lines were laid aside and each vied with the other in his devotion to the Stars and Stripes.

Hon. John A. Ryan and other leading members of the Democratic party, together with leading citizens of the town made remarks full of the Spirit of '76. The clergymen of the town were not backward to take the stand in behalf of their country.

A committee consisting of Messrs. E. D. Smith, A. E. Bates and E. Ward were appointed to secure subscriptions for the support of the families of volunteers.

More than $1,000 has already been subscribed. Menasha will not be behind her neighbors in her efforts to save our common country.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, April 21, 1936

President Roosevelt went on record with a formal announcement that the United States will not boost its armaments unless other nations make such a step necessary.

Without an opposition vote, the senate passed the $272,000,000 Overton bill for flood control on the lower Mississippi River and sent it to the house.

Marching with banners and floats proclaiming their desire for international peace and for immediate rather than post-war bonus, several hundred Lawrence College students were to parade down College Avenue Wednesday morning in an anti-war demonstration of the new student chapter of the Veterans of Future Wars.

Everett Flicgel was elected president of Baptist Young People's Union at a meeting at the church. Melvi Trentlage was chosen vice president, Miss Ida Fayzant, secretary, and Allen Gerold, treasurer.

Formal installation of the Rev. John B. Hanna as pastor of First Congregational Church was to take place Monday with special meetings and services.

10 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, April 24, 1951

Nearly one-half million battle-tested Reds smashed a hole in the center of the United Nations line in their third invasion of South Korea.

A conference committee began trying to write a draft-universal military training bill both the house and senate will approve. Members of the senate-house

Assembly Gets Things Done in Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — There is a reasonable chance that the responsible leadership in the 1961 Republican legislature may come from the assembly side, in the default of the opportunity of the Republican leaders of the upper house.

Wyngaard

Habit is sometimes a liability in political reporting. For decades there has been an assumption that the state senate is the power house of the legislature, partly because it was supposed that men serving longer (four year) terms tend to be more sober and responsible, partly because senators on the whole tend to be senior in years to assemblymen on the whole, partly because many assemblies in the past were impetuous and impulsive, and partly, perhaps, because governors, political parties and newspaper editors tended to make assumptions also.

Thus today there is not yet a general realization that in energy, imagination, enterprise and diligence the state assembly is showing up the state senate significantly.

This reporter was reminded of the evolving contrast between the houses when he realized his own current habits. The assembly each day is a more interesting place, for the journalist who is free to choose the house he wants to attend.

THE CONTRAST

It is the assembly that is up to date on its calendars, where the committees are holding workmanlike hearing schedules and reporting bills to the floor for action, where debate is decorous and reasonable in volume, and where there are some new-comers with a flair for work and reflection and study.

It is in the assembly where the majority leadership of the Republican party has worked out arrangements for joint presentation of major propositions and where a program is being evolved step by step in recognition of the fact that the Republicans must campaign on the legislative record next year as the Democrats must stand or fall on the performance of Gov. Nelson.

In tax policy, conservation, education, and the other major fields of public interest and political concern, the assemblymen are producing — and spending their spare time thinking.

Senators, for all of their superior rank and experience, have harran calendars dominated by trivia, and are wasting hour after hour in useless and tiresome harrangues because the committees are not turning out work materials for the daily house calendars.

It is yet early, as the timetable of the legislature goes. All of this may be deceptive. It may be that the senators will later dispose of the propositions being submitted by their more energetic juniors in the lower house. But to the sideline it is a noteworthy fact of current statehouse life, nevertheless.

MAY VS. DECEMBER

This reporter is going to string along with the assembly, on the basis of the performance thus far.

One evident reason for the superior will of the lower house members (why does tradition demand calling the assembly the "lower house", incidentally?) is the fact that they are young, eager, ambitious.

The top dogs of the senate are at the summit of their political careers.

The young cubs of the assembly are just beginning, as they figure it. The top men of the assembly could be the sons of the top men of the senate, chronologically figured. Each of them has a timetable of private ambition. It may be that some of their actions and their decisions will be judged to be wrong. But it is somehow refreshing to see them trying, rather than idling away their days in figurative rocking chairs waiting for something to turn up.

At Least One Group Has Pride In Its Work

From Memphis Commercial Appeal

The bootblacks of Tapei, Formosa, recently demanded that a film showing in four downtown theaters be banned because it insulted them. The protest was issued by the Shoe Shine Guild because the picture showed a shoe shine boy putting black polish on white shoes "on account of how" he was diverted by what he saw because a girl in the next seat was wearing a split skirt.

"No member of the guild would ever make such an error," said the protest. We are not quite sure about that, but certainly it is agreeable to find any set of practitioners taking pride in their work and defending their professional standing.

CIA Big Factor in Pair of Disasters

Agency Being Criticized for U2 Plane Incident, Cuban Invasion

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The finger points at the Central Intelligence Agency as a big factor in two American disasters within less than a year: The Cuban invasion and the U2 spy plane.

Bit by bit the CIA, most hush-hush of all government agencies and therefore the one about which the public knows the least, is being criticized. The result will be a good look at its operations.

President Kennedy took the initiative in this by appointing Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former Army chief of staff, to head a study of intelligence and guerrilla warfare tactics.

Nixon's Belief
Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is reported to believe—and to have told Kennedy so—the Cuban disaster shows there should be a division of responsibility in the CIA.

This means separating its gathering of information — it's the American super-spy agency — from any part in carrying out the actions based on the information it collects.

Last May 1, just 15 days before President Eisenhower was to have had his summit meeting in Paris with Premier Khrushchev, the CIA sent the U2 spy plane over Russia where it was shot down.

The result:
1. American spying was revealed to the world at the worst possible time — when Eisenhower and Khrushchev were to meet in search of peaceful solutions.

Series of Flights
2. The subsequent revelation that this was only the latest in a series of spy flights humiliated Khrushchev since the others had been successful.

3. The humiliated Khrushchev reacted as might have been predicted. He burst into international rage and indignation, called off the summit meeting, and insulted Eisenhower.

Although the U2 program in general had been approved by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, apparently the CIA did not consult with them about the timing of the specific flight that ran into trouble in that very delicate period.

It shouldn't have required much astuteness to figure out beforehand that if the plane was caught and brought down it would give heckled a demonstration of the Russians enormous anti-American propaganda at the worst possible time.

IF YOU'RE CONCERNED ABOUT RISING FAMILY EXPENSES CONSIDER THESE FACTS ABOUT COMMON STOCK

1. Owning common stock makes you part owner of a company. You share in its ups and downs. If it doesn't make a profit, it probably won't pay dividends. But if it prospers you can share in its profits through dividends—and share in any growth through the possible increase of both the size of your dividends and the value of your stock.

2. Most of America's 12½ million shareowners have modest incomes. More than half earn less than $10,000 a year. Many get started for as little as $40 every three months with a Monthly Investment Plan. In this way they can systematically build both income and investments to help take care of family needs.

3. It's easy to get help with your first investment. Call on a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. A Partner or Registered Representative there will be happy to talk over your objectives with you. It's part of his job to help new investors. Every Registered Representative at a Member Firm has had to meet the Exchange's requirements for knowledge of investing.

4. Ask for facts. There's always some risk when you invest. You can reduce the risk, however, if you check up on a company before buying stock in it. Never rely on a tip. Ask for facts from your Member Firm broker. He can also explain the advantages of owning bonds or preferred stocks.

5. Send for "INVESTMENT FACTS," a helpful guide for the new investor. It lists some 375 stocks that have paid dividends every three months for 20 years or more. It also explains how you can acquire stock through the convenient Monthly Investment Plan. Before investing provide for regular expenses and emergencies. Then if you have some money you'd like to put to work, you owe it to yourself to consider owning your share of American business. Investing can help you meet rising family expenses.

funds for months, anticipating Algeria's eventual independence. As De Gaulle's campaign against the mutiny gathered steam, Frenchmen were startled to learn that the government today carried out its fourth atomic test explosion at Reggane, in the Sahara Desert 600 miles south of Algiers, Oran and Constantine.

It seemed likely that De Gaulle, in going ahead with the atomic test, was trying to impress the mutineers. Instead it demonstrated his stubborn determination to raise France's status in the Western alliance and in the world power competition by developing her own atomic arsenal.

Controls Ports
De Gaulle's government said it was still in contact with, and presumably held the allegiance of, civil and military authorities of Tlemcen, Mostaganem and Saida in western Algeria; Oranville in central Algeria; and Setif, Philippeville, Batna and Djidjelli in eastern Algeria.

Philippeville and Djidjelli are ports. The government was also said to control the port of Bougie, terminal for the pipeline carrying Sahara's oil from the desert to the coast.

Officials in Paris conceded that the situation in Bone, another port in eastern Algeria, was confused.

People on Jobs
De Gaulle was bolstered by near-unanimous support of the population of France. People went about their jobs calmly for the most part. French housewives, remembering wartime shortages, stocked up on staples.

About 10,000 reservists have been called back to military service and the callup is continuing, the government said.

The number of troops brought back from the 50,000-man French force in West Germany was not disclosed.

Two nights ago Debre warned that the mutineers in North Africa might try to seize Paris or other centers in metropolitan France with a paratroop invasion. Citizens were called to the alert and told to rush into the streets if they heard sirens indicating an attack was under way.

Troops From Germany
The combat troops from Germany were sorely needed to bolster the power of the army at home, where most of the 250,000 troops are in training and service units.

Large stockpiles of food, fuel and military supplies were on hand in the North African territory, but the rebellious generals faced an acute financial pinch—where to find the cash to pay their troops.

Information Minister Louis Terrenoire announced that all movement of goods and money from France to Algeria was prohibited. Many of the 300,000 French troops in Algeria are conscripts. It seemed likely that the first payless payday would result in considerable counter-rebellion among those whose officers had thrown in with the rebellious generals.

Threat of Blockade
A prolonged blockade would bring tremendous hardships to Algeria. The territory's farms produce mainly citrus fruit, vegetables and wine. Algeria must import most of its meat and many food staples, raw materials for its industries and all petroleum products.

Capital reserves already are low in the territory. Investors have been withdrawing their

Union Says 'No' To Any Raise In Salaries

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — A school employees' union here wants any pay raise postponed indefinitely and has so informed the school board.

Michael J. Melvin, president of the Dearborn School Employees Independent Union said, "It may be unusual. But we believe this is a Cuban refugee seeking asylum. Later he gave six other versions of how he happened to be here, payers in the past, and a desire to keep taxes from rising. His acceptance he made a dash for union represents the bulk of 585 freedom but soon was caught. The Azurite sailed for South America late Monday and Molina is believed to have gone with it.

Record Speed of Rocket Reduced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The X15 rocket plane's official speed record has been reduced to 3,074 m.p.h.

The rocket plane's peak speed in last Friday's research run was initially given as 3,140 but detailed analysis of radar tracking data reduced it by 66 m.p.h.

Even so the X15 topped its former world mark for controlled craft by 169 m.p.h. The plane is designed for an ultimate speed of 4,000 m.p.h. and an altitude of more than 50 miles.

Cuba, said he also had been treated well by Castro authorities. Moore, of Fort Worth, Tex., added "I believe many people are behind Fidel Castro. He has done a lot of building and has started a very commendable education program."

Another Mexico City arrival said, however, he thought only the poor and lower classes support Castro.

Robert Sedenod, 15, who lives with relatives in Elizabeth, N.J., was visiting his parents in Havana when the invasion began.

He told a newsman on arrival in New York that the "radio kept repeating, 'The Yankees are coming by sea and by land to take back our farms.'"

Nine Russians were among the passengers who landed in Mexico City. The group was met by an official of the Russian embassy in Mexico City, who refused to be interviewed.

In New York, Kinji Kawamura, a correspondent for the Asahi News Agency of Tokyo, said he wasn't bothered on the streets of Havana — "the people thought I was a Chinese Communist."

Kawamura, who said censorship drove him from the island, related that he saw many Czech technicians there.

Some Demanded Death
Invaders reportedly captured by Fidel Castro's troops demanded death, showed indifference or begged for mercy in a television show from Cuba today.

A man who claimed he won the U. S. Congressional Medal of Honor and a pre-Castro police corporal accused of brutalities were among the captives interrogated in a running propaganda series aimed at convincing the Cuban people that the United States engineered the ill-fated invasion.

The telecast, monitored in Key West, Fla., lasted more than four hours.

The prisoners, who indicated they were aware of the firing squad threat pronounced by Castro, agreed with interrogators that they were duped into thinking the Cuban people would join their cause.

A man who claimed to be Manuel Perez Garcia and claimed he killed 83 Japanese and won the Congressional Medal of Honor in World War II, jumped up and shouted, "If this nation loves Fidel Castro, let it shoot me."

In Washington, the Pentagon said Manuel Perez Garcia died in battle and received the medal of honor posthumously.

Segundo de las Heras Cabo, who said he is a Spanish-born priest who formerly served in Cuba and parachuted with the invaders, said he was sorry and "would like to make amends."

When captured, he was quoted as having tearfully asked to do penance by working in the sugar cane fields.

"The American government is positively involved," he said in answer to a question.

Melvin Laird Attacks Udall For Statement

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R., Marshfield, today branded as "pure unadulterated hogwash" a statement made Sunday by Interior Secretary Stewart Udall that the anti-Castro invasion was conceived by General Eisenhower a year ago and handed over to President Kennedy.

The Wisconsin congressman based his description of Udall's statements on the "background briefings" which he had received as a member of the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

"At a time when President Kennedy is striving to insure bipartisan unity in this deepening crisis, Mr. Udall saw fit to drive a wedge between our parties by attempting to place the blame for the Cuban debacle upon the shoulders of former President Eisenhower and Mr. Nixon," Laird declared.

"It is my sincere hope the Kennedy administration will see fit to brief its cabinet officers in such a way that they will be properly informed before making appearances in which they are sure to be asked to comment on issues of the day," Laird said.

"In the meantime, I would suggest that the interior secretary undertake to smooth the waters of bipartisanship which he has so greatly troubled by his rash and inaccurate statement."

She's Only Girl Among Thousand U. S. Sailors

HOLY LOCH, Scotland (AP) — Attractive Beryl McNeil is the most envied lassie in Scotland—one girl among 1,000 U. S. sailors. She has gone to work aboard the U. S. Navy tender Proteus, anchored in the middle of Holy Loch as a floating base for Polaris submarines.

Every morning a navy launch takes Beryl out to the all-male ship for a hard day's work arranging for men who want to bring their families over from the United States.

"It's tough work," Beryl said. "Most of the boys want four-room apartments with central heating. Just imagine—central heating in the Scottish highlands."

Beryl goes home by launch every evening to nearby Innellan—and to her husband, a merchant seaman who says he's not a jealous man.

International Trade Told To Farmers

Wisconsin Has Had Little to Exchange, Speaker Declares

WINNECONNE — Three fea- tures of United States interna- tional trade with underdeveloped nations were outlined for coopera- tive leaders and educators here Monday.

Prof. Raymond Penn, Univers- ity of Wisconsin, who has com- pleted two study trips to Latin America, discussed why America is interested in international trade of agriculture products, what the immediate outlook is for agricul- ture products and important in- gredients of developing foreign countries.

Wisconsin, generally, has been unfavorable to international trade in agricultural products, Penn said. We are primarily in dairy- ing and have little to trade. We see little of the problem, he ad- ded.

Ocean's Doorstep "We are now at the ocean's doorstep," he said in reference to shipping via the St. Lawrence Seaway. "A load of hides will be brought to Milwaukee by a for- eign ship and that same ship will sail out with a load of hides," Penn said. "The difference is that we get horsehides which we no longer have and they get cow hides. There also is a developing market for dry milk—especially in the food for peace program," he said.

5 Motorists Fined for Tippy Driving

West DePere Man's Car Breaks Tree, Telephone Pole

Five motorists have admitted drunken driving charges in Fox Cities area courts.

Fined were Fred Krambs, 45, route 1, Neenah, $131.65; Charles Bogue, 27, 415 Nelson St., Fond du Lac, $131.65; Elmer Jeroux, 27, 800 K. Lincoln Ave., Oshkosh, to be sentenced Friday; Wayne V. Batten, 41, route 4, Waupaca, $100, and Orville G. Webster, 23, route 2, West DePere. All lost their driv- ing privileges for a year.

Webster was arrested by Outa- gamie County police after the car he was driving left County Trunk E in the Town of Freedom, went through a ditch 192 feet, broke off a tree, rolled 36 feet and broke off a telephone pole. He tested .20 on the drunkometer.

A test of .15 is considered evi- dence of intoxication.

Krambs was arrested Friday afternoon after the car he was driving left State 150 in the town of Clayton, knocked down a high- way sign and struck a culvert.

Drives Off Road Bogue drove off County Trunk I south of Oshkosh and stopped in a ditch at 1:40 a.m. Saturday. Jeroux, driving on Ceape Avenue, Oshkosh, struck a parked car own- ed by Marvin Zeinert, 802 Ceape Ave., Saturday.

Batten received an additional $25 fine for striking an unattend- ed vehicle as he was driving in the 200 block of S. Main St. in Waupaca. Batten struck cars own- ed by Mona Smith, 215½ N. Main St. and George A. Anderson, route 3, Waupaca.

Urge Cooperatives To 'Get Together'

Must Stop Stealing Each Other's Members, Fond du Lac Man Says

WINNECONNE — Cooperatives we must all get our heads together today, to do the job cooperatives started out to do, must get to- gether and build starting at the brick and mortar level, Paul Affeldt, president of Pure Milk Products Cooperative, Fond du Lac, said Monday.

Cooperatives are the least in- formed today than in any period in their history, the dairy farmer- leader told a Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Cooperatives meeting. Most cooperatives started out and filled their aims of helping the farmer and then fell by the way- side, he said.

"We, as cooperatives, have spent all too much time doing pub- lic relations while letting our membership slide," he said. Bar- gaining cooperatives and others must get back in the brick and mortar business and get to know people all over again.

Big Crisis "Today we face a big crisis. It isn't market competition we face but competition between co- operatives — to the extent of stealing each other's members," Affeldt said.

He threw a barb at the council and other cooperatives because of the structure of management. "When you get into an executive committee you find executives run the cooperative, not farm- ers," he said. Too many coopera- tive managers say the farmers are too busy and can't go to a meet- ing. "Give the farmer a chance to go as a manager of his co- operative. We're getting the opi- nions of managers, not farmers, when it comes to policy. A co- operative board of directors made up of farmers should set the pol- icy and the managers carry it out," he continued.

"First, to improve cooperatives, addresses the annual dinner meet- ing of the Bureau of Advertising of the ANPA.

Reader Denounces Ann as Cold, Mean, Cruel and Emotionless

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: You must be the meanest, most cold-hearted woman who ever lived. How could you have given such unsympathetic, callous advice to that 17-year-old girl who was expecting a baby out of wedlock? When I read her letter and your advice I got so mad I couldn't look at the rest of the paper.

How can you tell a girl to give up her baby for adoption? Do you know what you are asking? Do you realize that a baby is the most precious of God's gifts? A girl who has made a mistake should not have to give up her own flesh and blood, in addition to the other punishment she must suffer.

You must be an old maid without a single human emotion. It's obvious that you don't know what life is all about.—Former Reader

Dear Former Reader: I won't direct my remarks to you because I assume you are not reading the column any longer, but for the others who wrote along the same line (and several did) I would like to say this:

Circumstances vary but in the majority of cases it is, in my opinion, best for the mother of an out-of-wedlock child to give up the baby for adoption.

I happen to believe that the child has rights which must be considered. In this day and age it's difficult enough to raise well-adjusted, productive children with a father. I believe it's an injustice for a mother to attempt to raise a child alone when she has a choice.

 Single girls who hang on to their babies invariably attempt to defend their position by claiming their love is so great that they simply can't give the child up. Such "love" is questionable. It is a sick kind of love turned inside out—an unwholesome blend of self-pity, mixed with self-destruction and a touch of martyrdom. This isn't mother love—it's smother love, with all the suffocating aspects that the word implies.

The unwed mother who has genuine love for her child wants him to have a decent life in a conventional, socially-acceptable home environment. She is willing to give him up so that he can have such a life. This is the greatest sacrifice—and the greatest love.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a career girl who has been promoted recently to a very fine position. I want to make good, but I have a difficult problem. Most of the women in the department which I now supervise are older than I am. They resent me because I came up from the ranks and superseded them.

Their work habits are sloppy. They get in late and run out early. They waste too much time on the phones, in the washrooms, visiting around the office and on 30-minute coffee breaks.

How can I crack down without making enemies and looking as if I'm bucking for company president?—XYZ

Dear XYZ: Have a meeting and explain what is expected of the women in your department. Then tell them what will not be tolerated. Be friendly but firm. The incompetents and the loafers should be given two warnings—then a farewell handshake and walking papers.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Added Curtains Lift Ordinary Window to High Style

Add a curtain like this to the usual draperies and an ordinary window lifts to high style. Perhaps the draperies are tiresome by now, or never were what was hoped for. A lovely froth of beautiful sheer or semi-sheer fabric for curtaining, set importantly high, freshens the window, freshens the room. Push the draperies back and let the new take over.

This is an especially good idea for spring and summer when there's so much sunshine to enjoy, and for the room where draperies look too winter-heavy. Make the curtain luxuriously full and attach the rod high for more than one reason. The curtain should cover enough expanse to play a starring role at the window. And if the view into the room from outside is all too clear, it can be obscured by curtaining which begins above the head of anyone in a standing position.

It's found money—when you restore a dingy old piece of furniture to beauty with a refinishing job. Send for Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet, FURNITURE REFINISHING—HOW TO DO IT YOURSELF and learn how. The booklet is yours for 15 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to Miss Hillyer at this newspaper. Please allow approximately 3 weeks for mail delivery.

Full Schedule for Beauty Queen

STILLWATER, N.J. (AP) — There's one beauty queen whose daily schedule would make other pert misses shudder. She is Ellen W. Westbrook, named Sussex County Queen of last year's annual County Farm and Home Show.

Ellen's day — when she's home from her studies at East Stroudsburg (Pa.) State Teachers College — goes something like this:

Up at 4:30 a.m. to make breakfast for her parents, three sisters and two brothers. Then out to the barn to help with the milking, storage of milk and cleaning of pails and machines. After time out to feed and water her horse, it's on to her father's second farm at White Lake to bale straw. Then comes an afternoon of pitching straw with a hay fork and loading bales into a truck. Finally, back to Stillwater to make dinner, help with the evening milking chores and dry feed and hay for the family's 50 head of cattle.

"It's a wonderful life," says 21-year-old Ellen. "You're outside and you get all the sunshine and fresh air you want and it's a good family life."

Keep Handling At Minimum

It's a good rule to wash nylons after each wearing. But the less you handle hosiery during suiting, the less likely you are to snag fine threads.

Apron Squad Helps the Ailing

Though flowers and candy are lovely to receive, an incapacitated homemaker will appreciate even more such practical gifts as prepared food which is ready to serve, and housekeeping assistance.

That's why a very understanding English vicar has formed an "apron squad" which helps sick parishioners by doing their laundry, washing their dishes, and cleaning their houses.

Muslin Can Fill Wall Cracks

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
 Q: We have a rather short section of wall (about 5 feet) that has developed prominent cracks. The wall is adjacent to the chimney, on each side of it. We have heard of a material called "painter's linen" to patch cracked walls. We can't get much information about its use, etc. Could you give us some information?

A: Painter's linen, commonly called painter's muslin or painter's cloth, is a tightly woven fabric, available at wallpaper dealers and some paint stores. It is applied like wallpaper and can be painted or papered, as desired. It is excellent for covering cracked plaster wall and ceiling surfaces.

Q: What material can be applied to the bottom of a 1,600-gallon cypress water tank that has developed several leaks? A four-inch concrete bottom was poured some years ago, and later received a hot tar coating. Several leaks are somewhere in the tank bottom. It will be very hard to completely dry out this tank and about 24 hours is the longest time we could do without using water in this tank.

A: From your description, I suggest applying a layer of fairly thinned asphalt roofing cement; thinned enough to work somewhat into the leaky cracks. Another method (slightly more expensive) is to cover the present tar with a layer of latex patching concrete, mixed fairly thin. This gives an excellent waterproof surface.

Donkey Known by His Braying

Those who have eyes know a donkey when they see one, but this isn't enough to satisfy the true donkey. He lets out a bray—just in case he escaped notice.

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the king. He wasn't overjoyed to be in a slam.

With so many a trump suit, but there was little he could do about it at this stage.

The slam seemed to depend on a 2-2 break of the four missing trumps, but there was a slight extra chance. South tried for it by leading the ten of spades at the second trick.

West automatically covered with the jack of spades, and dummy won with the king. When East dropped the nine of spades South wondered whether or not he had trapped West into making a foolish play.

Two Possibilities
There were two possibilities. If East had started with the singleton nine of spades, West had made a foolish play South could now lead another trump through West to finesse through the Q-5 and thus avoid the loss of a trump trick.

The other possibility was that West had started with only J-5 of trumps and that East had started with Q-9. In this case, West had made a very fine play to give South the chance to go wrong.

South didn't say a word, but returned to his hand with a diamond and led the eight of spades through West.

The pressure was too much for West. "What an idiot I am," he confessed ruefully. Then he turned to South and asked "Would you have let the ten ride if I hadn't covered with the jack?"

"Of course," South affirmed. "Why tell a donkey that he has given himself away?"

SEAMS TO ME Skirt for Doll Bed

By Patricia Scott

Every little girl likes to pretend stitch each end with a 1/2 inch dolly is her own baby, and seam. Band should fit around top of basket with ends meeting. Turn to right side and press.

7. For ruffle, measure depth on outside of basket and subtract 1/2 inch. Using this figure for width cut a piece 2 1/2 times longer than band. Turn under lower edge of ruffle 1/4 inch and edge stitch ruffle rickrack over this stitching line.

Finish two short ends of ruffle with a narrow hem. Nov. gather top of ruffle to fit band. Slip band over gathered edge of ruffle, turn under raw edges of band on outside an inside and top stitch to skirt.

8. Pin skirt to lining that overlaps basket, with top edge of band even with top edge of basket, with top edge of band even with top edge of basket. Open ends of skirt

To Make:

1. Wind satin ribbon around handle tightly, overlapping edges, as shown. Tack at each end and tie a bow at each side.
2. For quilted lining, measure width and length at inside bottom of basket. Add three inches to each measurement. Cut one piece of any cotton fabric and two pieces of flannel this size. Place three pieces together with cotton on bottom. Quilt, using quilting attachment.
3. Measure inside depth of basket and add three inches. Then measure distance around inside of basket and add three inches. Cut one piece of cotton and two pieces of flannel this size. Quilt as before.
4. Stitch quilted bottom piece to side piece. Place inside basket allowing excess to overlap over two edge of basket. Make a slit in lining at each side to fit around handle.
5. Bind raw edge of lining with bias binding. Bind all around edge, including slit edges.

Teach Youngsters Discrimination

BY ANGELO PATRI

It is not the runabout children alone to whom we must say, "hands off." It has to be said to all children of all ages until they learn to see, admire and let alone. This is not an easy lesson to learn because all of us have a deep desire to own, make part of ourselves, all things beautiful. The very young child wants to touch and taste and handle things in order to learn about them. They do not at first want to own them. As they grow and develop, this acquisitive instinct rises and they reach for whatever they see.

People who own gardens know about this. Children going by a flower bed, break off a branch of a flowering shrub — and carry it along, sometimes only a short distance, sometimes to another.

Never Learn
Children, some long past childhood, cannot keep their hands off the flower beds and the shrubs. Guards have to be posted to protect the place or soon there would be little left but stumps.

Boys and girls, usually those from the big cities, who go to the camps for the vacation months have a way of capturing some unfortunate wild creature and caging him. That is, in my opinion, something that is not done in well regulated camps. Caging a wild thing, bird or beast or reptile, is cruel, and no child is to be encouraged in the idea. Let the children visit the woods and fields, look at what they see, learn by watching, taking photographs of flowers and creatures found there and go their way without touching them or destroying anything on the way.

Teach "Hands Off!"
All their lives, these children will have to know what they can touch, what they can own, what they must keep hands off and enjoy without possession. The time to learn the habit of seeing, understanding, appreciating and yet leaving alone, leaving to its own life, its own place, its proper owners, is in the beginning when they reach, indiscriminantly, for everything in sight.

Children who are taught this rule of behavior, look and leave, will be welcomed to homes and gardens, to woods and fields, and have a happier, richer life than will those who never have been checked in their possessive way. There is no fear that children to whom this applies will be deprived. The danger for our children is the over-much. Teach them, as far as may be, the art of discrimination. It will serve them well in time to come.

Q. Can you diagnose distemper in a cat by simply taking its temperature? Marie Valenza, N. Y. C.

A. There are many signs of distemper in cats, and a rise in temperature is only one of them. As a matter of fact, in feline distemper there are several stages when the temperature may be normal or even below normal. A very single detail of child rearing in temperature can be due to hot weather, strenuous exercise or some form of stress. Young animals often show a rise from excitement after an automobile ride or on entering a veterinary hospital. ## Husbands in Britain Not Observant

LONDON (AP)—British women look lovelier and are better groomed than any other women in the world — in spite of their husbands. So says Robert H. Cairns, president of incorporated guild of hairdressers, wigmakers and perfumers.

The trouble with most British men, Cairns complained, is that when their wives get a new hair style the men either don't notice it or they don't like it.

Let's Hair Down
Cairns let his hair down at the guild's annual convention Monday and suggested the best solution is to bring the male into the beauty salon so he can see what goes on.

"Seventy-five per cent of women who come into our salons today are concerned in some way with what their husbands will think of any new departure in hair styling."

Some women, he said, actually are scared stiff their husbands will be hostile if they come out of the dryer looking any different than when they went in.

"Others tell us their husbands would not even notice a change, so there is no longer any incentive to win his approval or evoke that gasp of admiration which a new hair style did in courtship," Cairns said. "The British husband is unobservant and often unappreciative."

Behind Average
"In this respect he is far behind the husband of the average woman in other European countries and America."

The assembled hairdressers, wigmakers and perfumers were therefore urged to persuade their married customers to get their husbands to call for them after the treatment is over.

"We shall have to see," Cairns mused, "that there is a small reception area where he can wait — men's magazines for him to read, perhaps a small display of men's toiletries or dress accessories to interest him."

2. Do some soldiers feel invulnerable in combat?
Yes—
No—
No. Many soldiers go into battle claiming to feel that "it just can't happen to me." This view seems to sustain them, and especially young soldiers, just before combat and even during the opening of the battle. But as soon as a soldier gets a near miss, or sees dead and wounded comrades, this hope disappears. Sometimes he gets the opposite feeling that every bullet and shell is aimed at him.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

Mother and I are running into difficulty over the selection of a wedding gift for a bride whose family and ours have been friends of long standing. Mother wants to get something that in her own words is "showy", while I think something more practical would be better. I told mother that giving is not a matter of out doing the other fellow. Is there anything else I can tell her to convince her or doesn't it actually matter?

Louise Davis Answers:
Perhaps you can both be happy if you find something that is "showy" and practical at the same time. The most thoughtful gift would be something that the bride might need and adore. Perhaps your mother's word "showy" gives you a mental picture of something flashy or gaudy. I think she was groping for the right word and couldn't find it. She probably meant several adjectives wrapped up in one: different, unusual, ornamental, beautiful, useful, practical. Such a gift is fun

After a long summer of this kind of care, the complexion actually tends to normalize. The oil flow is stanchied. Blackheads already on the scene clear off; new ones have no chance to make inroads. In short, the program prevents new troubles and overcomes old ones. Better make it yours, if needful!

Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A Lovelier Complexion." Before washing or a fresh make-up, remove cosmetics with a deep-pore cleanser.

As for make-up, consider a medicated base and powder. It provides pretty protection against trouble-making bacteria. For unblemished skin, another recom-

Something aesthetic can be considered practical and worth while. It often gives one's spirits a lift. For example, a hand-carved oriental wooden wall plaque can be a joy to behold. What bride would exchange it for an electric toaster?

Friend Beats Braves, 7-6, With Help From Labine

Drabowsky Loses in Club Debut

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hurler Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates—with the help of reliever Clem Labine in the ninth—Monday night scored a slim 7-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Friend had given up only five hits and was ahead 7-4 going into the "nervous ninth."

Wes Covington's single, a two-base error by Pirate shortstop Dick Groat and Charlie Lau's sacrifice fly scored one run for Milwaukee. John DeMerit flied out but Johnny Logan followed with a run-scoring double. And it was then that Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates summoned Labine.

Labine, fresh from the bullpen, got Roy McMillan of the Braves to swat a grounder to end the game.

Bob Buhl, Milwaukee's starter, gave up the first four Pittsburgh runs. Moe Drabowsky was the man, however, who was tagged with the loss on the basis of Bill Mazeroski's homer in the sixth inning. It was Drabowsky's first showing for Milwaukee. Don McMahon gave up the final two runs for Pittsburgh.

Friend socked two singles in Pittsburgh's 13-hit attack and drove in a pair of runs with one of them in the fourth.

Pittsburgh got its first four runs off Buhl in the fourth on four hits. Dick Stuart led off with a triple and Gino Cimoli ended the scoring with a double before Ron Piche relieved Buhl and retired the side.

Milwaukee tied it at 4-4 rapping Friend for three more runs in the sixth inning. Eddie Mathews hit a double to score two runs and then scored himself when Hank Aaron singled.

Pittsburgh was out in front again in the sixth on Mazeroski's first homer of the year.

Another Run
The Pirates picked up another run in the seventh when Bob Skinner walked and Stewart and Roberto Clemente hit singles.

In the eighth, Pittsburgh's Cimoli beat out a roller with two outs and Dick Groat followed with a single. Cimoli slipped and fell while rounding third base on Groat's hit and in the run-down that followed he slid safely into home.

The game was a playoff of last Friday night's rainout.

The Braves journeyed to St. Louis.

Earl Battey's 3-Run Double in 10th Enables Twins to Defeat A's

Tigers Win Eighth
Straight Game,
Retain AL Lead

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cookie Lavagetto knows all about Yogi Berra, Sherm Lollar and Gus Triandos but as far as the Minnesota Twins' manager is concerned, the best catcher in the American League is his own Earl Battey.

"Battey can beat you several ways," Lavagetto explained during a spring training interview. "He can hit, he can throw, he is an expert handler of pitchers and he can run, something unusual for a catcher. During the last half of the 1960 season, Battey was the best catcher in the American League. I think this year he will be even better."

So far the six-foot, 200-pound Californian has made his manager look good. Battey is batting .333 on 12 hits in 36 times at bat. Monday night he gave his best performance of the season, cracking three hits, including a three-run double in the 10th that led the Twins to a 10-6 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics.

Cleveland Wins
The victory kept the second-place Twins within a half game of Detroit, which retained its American League lead with an afternoon 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 5-1. Rain prevented the game between Chicago and Los Angeles.

Minnesota rallied for three runs in top of the ninth to overcome a 6-3 Kansas City lead furnished by Marv Throneberry's three-run homer in the bottom of the eighth. Battey's leadoff single ignited the tying rally. Two Athletic errors and Bob Allison's single filled the bases in the tenth against loser Bud Daley and set the stage for Battey's game-winning blow. Ray Moore, in relief, was the winner.

Starter Jim Kaat held the Athletics hitless until the fifth inning, when—with two out—he yielded successive walks to Marv Throneberry and Joe Pignatano, and successive singles to Don Larsen and Dick Howser for a pair of runs. Larsen, trying to score behind Pignatano, was cut down at the plate for the third out.

The Twins quickly regained the lead in the sixth when three runs scored on a throwing error and two walks after the bases had been filled by a pair of singles and a walk. Reliever Ed Kunkel took over at that point and retired the side by striking out Allison.

The Athletics apparently iced the game in the eighth inning, when three Minnesota errors and Throneberry's three-run homer produced four runs that gave them a 6-3 lead.

But the Twins tied it up in the ninth on singles by Battey and Bertoia, a walk to Billy Gardner, an infield out, an RBI single by Zorro Versalles, and a throwing error by A's shortstop Dick Howser.

ser. Versalles was caught off second and run down for the final out.

The Tigers extended their winning streak to eight straight as Frank Lary continued his hex over the Yankees. The stocky little righthander hurled a seven-

Johnson Posts TKO Victory Over Von Clay

Three Knockdowns
In Second Round
Halt Title Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, fresh from a successful defense of his National Boxing Association light heavyweight championship today found himself in the same old rut—waiting for Archie Moore.

Johnson, 174, scored a second-round technical knock-out over Von Clay, 175, a fellow Philadelphian, Monday night.

Clay, 21, with a 13-3-2 record before the scheduled 15-round, never had a chance. Johnson, 32, veteran of 16 years in the ring, knocked him down once in the first round and three times in the second.

Referee Dave Beloff stopped the uneven match at 2:28 of the second with Clay a badly beaten young man.

Johnson said he knew his first defense of the title he won Feb. 7 with a kayo of Jesse Boudry at Miami Beach, wasn't going to last long.

Good But Slow
"He (Clay) is a good puncher, but a very slow puncher," said Johnson. "I could see his left jab coming. I knew then all I had to do was let him lead that left and cross with my right and it wouldn't be long."

Beloff stopped the fight in the second after Clay went down for the third time. Under Pennsylvania rules, three knockdowns in one round automatically ends a fight.

The crowd of 6,738 which paid $39,993, stood and cheered Johnson's performance. The former bricklayer and drummer earned his biggest purse since putting on the gloves in 1946 — $13,188, 40 percent of the receipts. Clay's 20 percent amounted to $6,594.

Where does Johnson go from here? He has to wait and see whether Moore, who is recognized as light heavy champ in New York, Massachusetts and Europe, can make the weight for a title defense June 10—against Giulio Rinaldi. If Moore doesn't get an infield out to 175—there is doubt he can—Johnson may substitute for him.

WCIAA Bans Members From Participation In National Tourneys

Tend to Over-Emphasize Sports,
Board Says; Cage Sites Changed

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association Monday banned member high schools from participation in any national sports tournaments.

Steve Pavela, executive secretary of the WCIAA, said that the vote was unanimous and the ban went into effect immediately. He said the board felt national tournaments tend to over-emphasize sports and extend basketball seasons already prolonged.

The board also said that the State Catholic Basketball Tournament must be held early in March or late in February.

Lourdes Accepted
Oshkosh Lourdes and Milwaukee Francis Jordan were accepted as new members of the WCIAA.

Directors also voted to adopt the National Federation of High School Athletic Association's rule which limits a player to three seconds in the free-throw lane, with or without the ball. Another rule awards the ball to the defensive team for an offensive foul and a third provides for the start of play at the second and fourth quarters with a jump ball.

Regional basketball assignments also were changed. Milwaukee Marquette was moved from Region 6 to 7 and replaced in 6 by Francis Jordan, Madison Edgewood from Region 7 to 2 replacing Lima Sacred Heart, moved to Region 1; Lourdes, placed in Region 5 with Little Chute St. John moved to Region 4.

The Rev. Vernon Kuehn of Milwaukee Messmer was reappointed president of the WCIAA and the Rev. Bernard Pierick of Beloit Catholic was named to another term as vice-president.

NFL Executives Predict Jump of 70,000 in Season Ticket Sales

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — National Football League executives expect season ticket sales to swell past 400,000 for the 14-club loop despite the competition from the new American Football League.

As general managers opened their two-day prelude to the annual league meeting, optimism held sway with the estimate the season ticket sales would be up 70,000 from last year.

That didn't include the Dallas club where ticket sales are just getting under way. But it did include the new Minnesota team where 24,600 season books have been sold.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle termed the boost an indication of the increased interest in the league. In reference to the AFL, which had its first campaign in 1960, he said, "If the AFL is successful at the gate, it won't be at the expense of the NFL, but will be on the AFL's own merit."

The general managers and business managers are meeting to share ideas on business procedures. Bert Rose of the new Minnesota entry said it has been enthusiastically received. Asked if Hugh Cleveland and St. Louis from 14,000 to 20,000.

St. Louis is in its second year of operation there after moving the Cardinal franchise from Chicago. Dallas, a newcomer last year, had an advance sale of only 3,000 in 1960.

Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco expect to equal their 1960 advance sales when the former two had 33,000 and the latter 37,000.

Baltimore sagged to fourth place in the western division last year after capturing two straight NFL titles. Still the Colts general manager, Don Kestler, expects no drop in season ticket sales.

Among the other clubs, Green year ago the club quit selling at Bay—the western division champion 45,644 were sold. It expects to increase from 31,000 go that high again this time.

Hebert Wins Playoff for Houston Title

Scores Birdie on Sudden-Death Hole,
Collects $7,000

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Jay Hebert moved on to the Texas Open today after winning $7,000 in a sudden-death playoff with Ken Venturi in the Houston Classic to move up to fifth place among golf's 1961 money winners.

Hebert, Lafayette, La., native, rank an eight-foot birdie putt to beat Venturi after the Californian had tied an 18-hole playoff by picking up three strokes on the last four holes.

Venturi Wins $3,600
Venturi won $3,600 for his second-place finish to move up to seventh place among money winners. Tournament officials said each player would get at least $600 more as their part of Monday's gate.

Hebert arrived in Houston in 17th place on the money list. He left with an official PGA total of $14,457.50 for the year. Venturi now has won $13,767.50.

Venturi's 18-hole finish reversed Sunday's final round of the 72-hole tournament. Hebert picked up five strokes on the last five holes Sunday to tie Venturi at 276 and send the Classic into its third straight playoff.

Drive Into Rough

Both drove into the rough on the sudden death hole but recovered well and made the green. Venturi's drive hit a spectator, but no serious damage was done.

Hebert chipped two feet inside Venturi — about eight feet from the cup — and watched Ken miss his birdie putt.

Hebert took three practice swings, shifted his feet twice and sent the ball into the cup to end the Classic's first sudden death playoff.

U. S. Cagers Go Overtime To Beat Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — The U.S. men's basketball team, unbeaten but thoroughly tested in its first two games with the Russian national team, left for Kiev today on the second leg of an exhibition tour of the Soviet Union.

The U. S. team led by All-American Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, overcame a shouting, jeering crowd of 16,000 and a determined Russian aggression Monday for an 84-81 overtime victory that concluded the Moscow phase of the eight-game series.

Lucas was the difference. Rebounding effectively against the tall Russian squad that included 7-3 Jan Krumpholtz, the Buckeye standout scored 20 points and wound up his fine performance by scoring the clinching basket.

The American women's team was not in the same class with the Russian squad, bowing 55-45 Monday. England, stopped Bill Hunter, 1937, Detroit, 8.

Harold Johnson is lifted to the shoulders of his handlers Monday night in Philadelphia after he successfully defended his light heavyweight title against challenger Von Clay. The scheduled 15-round fight ended in a technical knockout in 2:28 of the second round.

Connie Mack III Resigns Post in Promotion, Sales

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics fired farm manager Henry "Hank" Peters Monday night and accepted the resignation of Connie Mack III, last of the famed Mack family identified with the club.

Charles O. Finley, new owner of the Athletics, wouldn't say why Peters, head of the club's farm system since 1955, was discharged. Finley said General Manager Frank Lane would have to do the talking and Lane couldn't be reached.

Mack has been working in the promotion and sales department since the club was purchased by the late Arnold Johnson and moved here from Philadelphia in 1955.

Peters was assistant farm manager of the old St. Louis Browns for eight years. He served as business manager of Burlington, Iowa, in the Three-I League before joining the Athletics.

Usual Slow Start

Banks (.222) Will Try Extra Batting Drills

BY JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO (AP)—Ernie Banks, looking over his pathetic .222 batting average, isn't particularly worried over another slow start but the slugging Chicago Cub shortstop has decided on extra batting practice.

"I've never been able to figure out why I start slowly," said Banks Monday, "but here it is another new season and here I am having my usual troubles."

"Maybe its the weather, maybe I need more practice. I don't know. But I do know my timing is off. I'm reaching out for balls, swinging at bad pitches, especially low ones."

Not Worried
"No, I'm not particularly worried about it. My timing is getting better. I know I'll straighten out and I'm sure there's nothing wrong that a few base hits won't cure."

"But I'm not going to wait. I'm going to get out to the park early for extra batting practice. I have to get my swing in the groove and the sooner the better."

Banks, who started the season with a total of 269 home runs and 778 runs batted in for seven full years in the majors, has two home runs and three runs batted in for 11 games this spring. He has hit 176 homers in the last four seasons with 481 RBIs.

Banks started out the season batting cleanup but was soon dropped to fifth by coach Vedic.

Manager Rotation
Himself has given way to Harry Craft in the Cubs' rotation of managers and Craft plans to bat Ernie in the third spot.

"It doesn't make any difference where I hit," said Banks, "but I would like to get settled in one spot and that will happen as soon as I start hitting. Naturally, I'd like to bat wherever I can get to the plate the most times."

Lead Attack
Rookie Steve Boros and first baseman Norm Cash led a 10-hit attack against loser Bob Turley and two relievers. Boros cracked three hits and drove in two runs. Cash put his team in front with a fourth inning home run.

Bubba Phillips hit his first grand slam home run in eight major league seasons to spark the Indians' victory over the Orioles.

The blow came in the sixth with the score tied at 1-1. The victim was Milt Pappas, who failed to finish for the second straight time.

Jim Perry was the winner although he needed eighth inning help from Frank Funk when the Orioles loaded the bases.

Johnny Temple, the league's leading hitter, extended his hitting streak through all ten of Cleveland's games.

Twin Cities Both Register 200 for LL

Neenah and Menasha report registering around 200 boys each last Saturday for their respective Little League operations.

The boys will have one last chance to sign up next Saturday (between 9 a.m. and noon.) Menasha boys will register at the Menasha ball park and Neenah boys at the Neenah police station.

Boys born between August 1, 1948 and July 31, 1952 are eligible in both cities. Menasha is competing in tournament play for the first time and only boys within the city limits can play in the Menasha League.

Menasha tryouts will be held May 6 (between 1 and 5 p.m.) at the new Jefferson Park diamond and there will be tryouts the following two Saturdays.

Neenah will hold tryouts on the first three Saturdays in May but the location and times have not been decided as yet. Boys not registered after Saturday will not be eligible for the tryouts.

Tourney Dates Slated by State PGA

Sponsor Hasn't Been Obtained for Wisconsin Open

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Professional Golfers' Association, meeting for the first time outside of Milwaukee, set a series of tournament dates Monday and sounded a warning about the cost of playing tournament golf for a living.

About 60 of the organization's 92 members attended the meeting. Among the dates set was that for state qualifying rounds for the National Professional Golfers' Association Tournament. The rounds will be played at the Fond du Lac South Hills Course on June 26.

The state president, George Vintense of Madison, also told the members that a sponsor had not yet been obtained for the State Open Tournament, set for Aug. 20-25 at Racine's Meadowbrook Country Club.

Warning on Cost
The warning about the cost of joining the tournament trail came from Harry Adams, a representative of a golf equipment company (McGregor). He said it takes between $3,000 and $5,000 to start out. He also reminded that it takes better than par golf to win among the pros.

Other dates:

NL Standings Make Pilots Look Good

Only 1 Game Separates First Four Teams

At the start of the season, the National League managers predicted a five-team race with a sixth team, the Cincinnati Reds, having an outside chance. The league standings today make the pilots look like geniuses in the guessing department.

Only one game separates the first four teams after two weeks play. Another game separates the seventh-place Milwaukee Braves from the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers, San Francisco, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the other three in the top-rated five, are tied for second place.

In the only game played Monday Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee 7-6 to drop the Braves one game out of the cellar. To further illustrate the closeness of the National League race, had the Braves won, they would have bolted into second place.

Every National League club can change its position today. San Francisco would take over first place by beating Los Angeles. St. Louis could share the top rung provided it defeats Milwaukee and the Dodgers lose.

Pittsburgh, by beating Philadelphia tonight also could stake a first-place claim, if the Giants beat the Dodgers. The other game pits Chicago against Cincinnati, currently tied for fifth place.

Lawrence Says Possible to Learn From Cuban Mess

Points Up Need for More Talks Between U. S. Administrations

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's taking place. There was no time to urge the petty politicians sent by Mr. Kennedy but an eagerness to lay off each other and recognize the serious-developed to hasten the exit of Fidel Castro from the scene. Dismissal of dangers and pitfalls before it's serious came prolonged at various levels in more re- of government here and caused specs than one. Vice President Nixon, for instance, to become impatient as important to look be urged that the plan be carried back just to as-out promptly. But it proved to be less blame, po-a bigger undertaking than any- lical or other-one had foreseen. Also, the polit- wise. It is more ical campaign itself acted as an important to learn from the past inevitable roadblock to action. and then go ahead decisively.

When President Kennedy came into office, he could have stopped ing on here, it is necessary to say the whole enterprise. He was that President Eisenhower and his urged to do so by some of his advisers felt more than a year ago that it was desirable to encourage the Cuban exiles who wanted to liberate their home- land. Vice President Nixon and others participated in those dis- cussions. Some people in the state department dragged their feet and kept urging all the reasons why no help should be given. Dis- vision of opinion was responsible for many months of delay. Mean- while, the Communists intensified their help to Castro.

No Dissent

When the presidential campaign got under way, it became neces- sary for President Eisenhower to take Sen. Kennedy into his con- fidence and tell him what was going on. The Kennedy's were a lot about "prestige" in Europe, Asia and Africa, and expressed fears about Latin-American opin- ion and over what Mr. Khrush- chev might do. President Ken- nedy rose above the bickerings of his advisers and decided to stay with the original plan. He is being wholeheartedly commended for this by former Vice-President Nixon.

Udall's Answer

Now, it so happens that Sec. Udall of the Interior Department made a comment on television last Sunday which aroused the ire of Senate Republican leader Dirksen and others. Mr. Udall was asked if the American people to- day support "this kind of Ameri- can involvement in an attack on Castro." The secretary replied: "Well, I don't think there is any doubt but that they do. The fas- cinating thing about this particu- lar business is that here was a plan conceived by one administra- tion — this, from all I can find out, began over a year ago and President Eisenhower directed it. And here the actual plan was car- ried out under a successor admin- istration. I certainly think the at- titude of the former president, of Mr. Nixon and of these other peo- ple is indicative of the fact that we do stand together as a people and that whether what we did was right or wrong, that there is na- tional unity on questions like these."

Perhaps Mr. Udall was trying to bolster national unity, but his off-the-cuff remarks came to be construed as critical of the pre- ceding administration. He ex- pressed regret afterward that this had happened.

One Good Thing

Actually, one good purpose is served by examining in retrospect what did happen. For obviously

The Highest Award in Catholic Scouting, the Ad Altare Dei award, was presented to James Schelfhout at a court of honor at Kimberly Sunday. The Rev. Gerald Bouressa, assistant pastor of Holy Name parish, is making the presenta- tion. Looking on are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Schelfhout, parents of James.

Schedule Inquest Into April 4-Crash, Traffic Fatality

An inquest into the death of Ronald F. Kaminecki, 18, route 2, Pulaski, will be held in the municipal courtroom of the Outagamie County Courthouse at 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

Kaminecki died April 14 of in- juries received in a one-car crash on State 76, half a mile south of, Shiocton, April 4. He and five other youths were passengers in a car driven by William Weier, 18, route 2, Pulaski, a cousin of Kaminecki. Bernard Weier, 13, a brother of the driver, still is hos- pitalized.

Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer and County Cor- oner Bernard Kemps said six wit- nesses to be subpoenaed are there were some weaknesses re- vealed. It's no secret that the United States hasn't been equip- ped to carry on guerrilla war- fare. Also, it is well known that Vice-President Nixon has been recommending right along that the Central Intelligence Agency confine itself to information-gath- ering and that it be relieved of any responsibility for guiding guerrilla operations. For this is largely a military problem. One result of the discussions has been a determination by President Kennedy to strengthen America's facilities for helping guerrilla operations on our side, especially since the Soviets specialize in that sort of thing nowadays. He has asked Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to study the problem and recom- mend a plan of operations for the future.

A lack of coordination is inevit- able when one administration goes out and another comes in. Theoretical discussions about the "transition period" are helpful, but they cannot become a substi- tute for actual experience. The United States "changed horses in mid-stream" and is today paying the penalty for it. Next time a presidential election comes up, some serious thought will have to be given to a system that will preserve the continuity of opera- tions on the world front irrespec- tive of who is the victor in the contest for electoral votes.

Not the End

One thing is clear. Mr. Castro will make the mistake of his life if he thinks the so-called "fail- ure" of the invaders last week will gain him anything in the long run. Mass executions will only in- tensify the drive to undermine his regime, and it could possibly in- volve the use of American mili- tary forces soon if the present Havana government continues to maltreat Americans and seize their properties.

The days of Castro are num- bered. In the not-far-distant fu- ture, the sequel to the "invasion" will come, and there will be a dif- ferent story to tell.

Lift Ban on Some Roads in Four Counties

Weight Restrictions Will be Lifted as Conditions Permit

Weight restrictions on portions of all county trunk highways in Outagamie, Waupaca, Calumet and Winnebago Counties have been lifted.

The restrictions remain on many Outagamie County roads but Commissioner Clarence Brownson today gave this list of trunks which have been removed from the "posted" class. They are: A, 47 to 76, C, all; D, 76 north to Waupaca line; E, 41 to 55; EE, all; G, 47 to 55; J, 41 to EE; KK, all; M, all; O, 47 to E; Q, all; S, 47 to C and from 55 to Brown County; T, all; U, 41 to EE; ZZ, all.

In Calumet County, M in the Town of Harrison and W in the Town of Brill have been removed from the restriction list. Others will be lifted as road and weather conditions permit.

All Waupaca County trunks have been lifted, a spokesman for the Highway Department said. Leon Morrissey, Winnebago County Highway Commissioner, said temporary posting of all County Trunks has been lifted. The roads have been posted since March 21.

French Books

"Aspects de la France" by Botkine and Jovaux has been adopted as the textbook and primary, and Philip C. Homes, "French Review Grammar Work-book" as the workbook for the third-year French course which will be offered for the first time next year.

Beer Bar Owners Object to Story on Patrons and Calumet Road Deaths

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore VanDera, operators of a beer bar in St. John, object to an article published in the Appleton Post-Crescent April 3 and carrying a headline which said: "Bar Patrons Make Up 4 of 5 Calumet Road Deaths in 1961."

They said the article was inaccurate and that it "attributes that to Chilton and was returning sulking in the death of Irene Steffen." "The original story did not mention the name of the bar nor the names of the operators."

Commenting on the four persons of a car driven by Mary West when she met her death. They had worked that evening until 11 and did not arrive at the tavern until 11:30. Mary West, the driver, was fasting during lent and had nothing to drink. A car came into their lane of traffic causing her to drive off of the road and resulting in the death of Irene Steffen.

They added that the article "attempts to blame the undersigned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. VanDera."

"James D. Wallace, was in no way under the influence of any intoxicating beverage when he had deaths of the people above mentioned, and they were no way to blame, directly or indirectly for these deaths."

"Irene Steffen was an occupant these deaths."

Urges Mental Care Center Be Constructed

Madison Official Cites Advances in Rehabilitation Work

NEENAH — Dr. Edward J. Pfeifer, senior supervisor for the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, Madison, has urged that serious thought be given to establishing a center in this area for rehabilitating the mentally ill.

Speaking at a public information meeting of the Winnebago County Mental Health Association Monday night at the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. Pfeifer said rehabilitation work now includes the mentally ill as well as the physically handicapped.

"Effective rehabilitation is reached when the person is considered employable," he said. Dr. Pfeifer added that between 1,400 and 1,500 persons are brought to this status each year and about 5,000 persons are in the interim stage of training for profitable employment in Wisconsin.

Advanced Training There are counselors at the Mendota, and Winnebago State Hospitals and the Milwaukee County Hospital. "These counselors take over when a patient is about to be released," Dr. Pfeifer explained, "and they aid through training and follow-through to employment."

He added that sheltered workshops are a part of this program, where the individual can gradually take on skill and responsibility without going "immediately into the stream of stresses which made him seek asylum."

Paul Tepper, Dr. William Chandler and Mrs. Walter Brummond were elected to three-year terms and Mrs. Harold Ornstein to a one-year term on the board of directors. William Siekman, Arnold Evans, Stephen Freschl and Bart Hammond were re-elected to the board.

Harold Adams, YMCA president, told the approximately 240 YMCA members at the meeting that a fund campaign for a new building will be conducted in 1962 or 1963, although no definite date for it has been set.

The annual report was a composite of separate reports and statements written during the last year.

Facilities Strained "Our physical facilities are utilized nearly to the breaking point," John Rosebush and M. J. Schuler reported. "It is questionable whether present facilities can take on more activities or whether we can encourage greater participation."

Arnold Evans, Frank Okada and John Gall, reporting on programs, said "We recommend no new activities... we advise weighing carefully whether activities should be replaced with others."

MacDowell Male Chorus sang at the dinner meeting.

Too Few Students The Town of Harrison has too few students to consider building its own high school to meet state requirements, Mrs. Smith said.

Because of the district's large area and its location, it would be more practical to split it than to put it all into one high school district, the women said.

The district is at the northeast corner of Lake Winnebago, surrounded by Menasha, Appleton, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Hilbert and Stockbridge High Schools.

The study group suggested that the far western part of Harrison district and the lakeshore area northwest of High Cliff Park look to Appleton.

New Classrooms The women said they have spoken with Calumet and Outagamie County School superintendents, but not with the county school committees who have the power to reorganize districts. They want to be sure attachment to Appleton is possible before promoting it, they said.

The area suggested for Appleton.

First Quarter Sales, Earnings Show Rise, American Can Reports

37-Cent Dividend Declared by Stockholders at Annual Meeting

NEENAH — Sales and earnings should not exceed $45 million, increase for the first quarter of 1961 over the same period of 1960, it was reported today at the annual stockholders' meeting in New York.

First quarter sales were $230,148,000 compared to $222,848,000 for the first quarter of 1960. Net income was $6,583,000, compared with $6,233,000 for the same period last year.

A dividend of 37 cents a share was declared, two cents more than the dividend paid in the first quarter of 1960.

Foresee Improvement Company officials said they expected a continuing improved performance this year, "based on an increase in volume, on cost reductions as a result of earlier capital expenditures, and price increases in tin cans sufficient to offset the effects of higher costs." Capital expenditures this year

Calls for End to Federal Tax on Personal Income; Ask Strong Foreign Policy

WINNECONNE — Support of the "Liberty Amendment" which calls for an end to federal personal income taxes was voted by the Winnebago County Republican Party at its annual caucus at the village hall here Monday night.

The "Liberty Amendment" is the subject of a hearing at Madison Wednesday and is being advocated by the Wisconsin Economic Freedom committee which has its headquarters at Oshkosh.

The resolution backing the "Liberty Amendment" points out that it has been approved already by Wyoming, Nevada, Louisiana and Texas and calls upon the Wisconsin legislature to take similar action.

Among proposals of the amendment are that "Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estate and/or gifts" and that "the government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

The resolution further contends that "federal corporate activities have taken over 40 per cent of the land area and 20 per cent of the industrial capacity of the nation, and consume more than half the federal revenue to pay their losses and hidden costs."

Federal Aid to Education A resolution proposed by the Resolutions Committee headed by Mowry Smith, Jr., would have placed the county caucus on record to oppose and reject federal aid to education in any proposed form and to advocate a free, unfettered system of public education, under the continued support of the individual states and communities.

This was amended by Assemblyman William Steiger to have it replaced entirely with a resolution that the county party support the federal aid to education.

Oshkosh Woman Wounded in Hand

OSHKOSH—Mrs. Peter Paulik, 113B Wisconsin St., was wounded in the right hand Monday night. Her husband told police that a .22 cal. rifle accidentally fired while he was holding the weapon on his lap.

Police were notified at 7:31 p.m. by the attending physician. Mrs. Paulik was kept in Mercy Hospital overnight for X-rays. She suffered a fractured palm bone.

Paulik said he had taken the rifle from the closet and had sat on a chair with the weapon on his lap. He said he did not know the gun was loaded.

Pleads Innocent

Weinke Murder Trial Will be Held July 10

Leslie J. Weinke, 36, Kaukauna, was to stand trial July 10 for first degree murder.

He pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity when he was arraigned in Municipal Court this morning.

The slightly-built husband and father is accused of pumping three bullets into his wife's head, therefore, a fit subject for trial to climax a quarrel Feb. 8 at the couple's home at 308 W. 12th St., Kaukauna. She died later at Kaukauna Community Hospital.

Test Results Judge Oscar J. Schmiede said results of a 60-day mental examination at Central State Hospital, Waupun, indicated Weinke is competent to stand trial. The judge normally, special counsel is provided by the state attorney general's office but a shortage of help made it impossible for the recommended Weinke be returned to office to comply.

Harrison School Unit Asks Attachment to Appleton

District Has Too Few Pupils To Build, Women Say

Four women from the lakeshore area of Harrison School District, Calumet County, asked the Appleton Board of Education last night whether Appleton will take part of their district at the 1962 deadline for attachment of all territory to high school districts.

"If your children were assigned to us by the county committee, we'd find space somewhere, somehow," Supt. Royce E. Kurtz told the women.

Mrs. Darwin Smith told the board that she, Mrs. Ned Gallo way, Mrs. James Schmidt and Mrs. Robert Strauss represented a small, loosely knit study group gathering information about enrollment, distances, tax rates, valuation and quality of the schools of the area.

"The Play's the Thing", in contract bridge as in the theater. This is obvious from expressions of some of those who participated in Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Bridge Association's Annual Northeastern Bridge Tournament Friday and Saturday at the Conway Hotel and Sunday at the Elks Club. In the first photo Mrs. Allan Mink concentrates on making the right lead, a choice which could bring victory or disaster to the hand. J. J. Wall, Wausau, holds his head in a gesture of defeat that indicates his partner's lead can't possibly solve anything, for H. J. Weller apparently has things well under control. Meyer Burstein tips back his chair to study the situation, and perhaps find some elusive line of play that will give him a top board. At right, Mrs. J. N. Patterson, Milwaukee, studies the dummy hand, hoping to find a way to give her partner the setting trick. Lloyd Doerfler was general chairman of the event. Directors were present from Green Bay, Eau Claire, Wausau, Sheboygan, Milwaukee, Minocqua, Racine and Kenosha.

Watch 'Referral' Selling Scheme

BY SYLVIA PORTER

It's a cinch to get trapped in the "referral selling" scheme flourishing all over the country as you read this. For your own protection, therefore, learn how the scheme is operated and the ways to stay out of the trap. It starts with a neighbor or friend telling you that he has discovered a way you can get something you'd like to have absolutely free or far below cost—say a home fire alarm system or a garbage disposal unit, a vacuum cleaner or a new car, etc. When you naturally ask "how?" the neighbor replies that he'll send a salesman at an ap-sale that results through your efforts. This is quite an appealing pitch and you figure you should be able to find at least six bona fide customers for the product — which would give you your system free — and maybe you can even make a profit. Spurred on by high pressure selling, you sign the papers making you a "buyer representative" and you put down a small deposit. But now think this through — think what a referral plan under which one person gets six others to participate, each of the six gets six more, etc., means. This is geometric progression and it goes . . .

One	Six	36	216
1,296	7,776	46,656	279,836
1,679,616	10,077,696

Small Chance For Buyer
Obviously, there simply aren't enough families in any community to keep this referral method of selling going for even a fair period of time! Obviously, unless you're among the very first in a chain — and how would you know? — you haven't a chance of finding prospects who will make you eligible for enough credits to offset even a minor part of the price you obligated yourself to pay the instant you signed the papers to become a "buyer representative."

What you have done is buy for a full price an expensive product which you may or may not want. What your neighbor has done is put you in a spot which will make you bitterly resent him, and you may be sure the neighbors who approach will in turn bitterly resent you.

To top it off, the Post Office Dept. has advised the Association of Better Business Bureaus that referral selling is equivalent to the endless chain scheme and this conflicts with the postal lottery and fraud laws. The Attorney General of Ohio has specifically denounced referral selling as a lottery in violation of the law and most states prohibit lotteries except where authorized by statute.

Watch For Scheme
"Yet, it's the sort of scheme which flourishes because it has the something-for-nothing appeal which fools even ordinarily smart buyers," emphasizes Victor H. Nyborg, president of the ABBB. Thus, your protection lies in knowing how to recognize the scheme from the start. Specifically:

Be on guard if a friend or neighbor urges you to see a salesman who will tell you how to get a costly product "free"; Be exceedingly suspicious if the salesman explains that by participating in a word-of-mouth advertising campaign for the product, you might even make money on your purchase; Say a loud "NO" if he tries to rush you into signing a sales contract to "qualify" as a buyer representative, and mean that "no."

pointed time who will explain the wonderful deal in detail. The salesman arrives, goes into a persuasive discussion about how much advertising expenses add to the price of the product he's marketing — for illustration, let's say it's a fire alarm system costing $300. The salesman reveals that after exhaustive surveys, the manufacturer has decided to experiment with selling via word-of-mouth instead of advertising campaigns and to give the money saved on advertising in the form of credits to all "buyer representatives" who will, by word-of-mouth, help sell the product to neighbors, friends, relatives.

Neighbor Gets $50

The neighbor who sent the salesman to you will get a $50 credit toward the purchase of his fire alarm system if you buy and, in turn, you'll "qualify" for a $50 credit on each additional NEENAH — Burglars apparently elected to drown their sorrows after failing to obtain money in a break-in at Smile Inn, 432 Sherry St., sometime early Monday.

Six quarts of liquor were taken after attempts to break open the cigarette machine failed and the cash box from a shuffle board machine yielded only a small amount of change.

Neenah police, who are investigating, reported the burglars broke a window in the kitchen at the rear of the tavern to gain entry after attempting to pry open two doors.

The break-in was reported at 8:20 a.m. Monday by Mrs. Alden Mueller, owner.

About $5,000 of the total will go to the National Red Cross organization for its disaster work. The Red Cross bloodmobile, which makes its next visit to Neenah-Menasha, June 6-7, is sponsored by the local chapter.

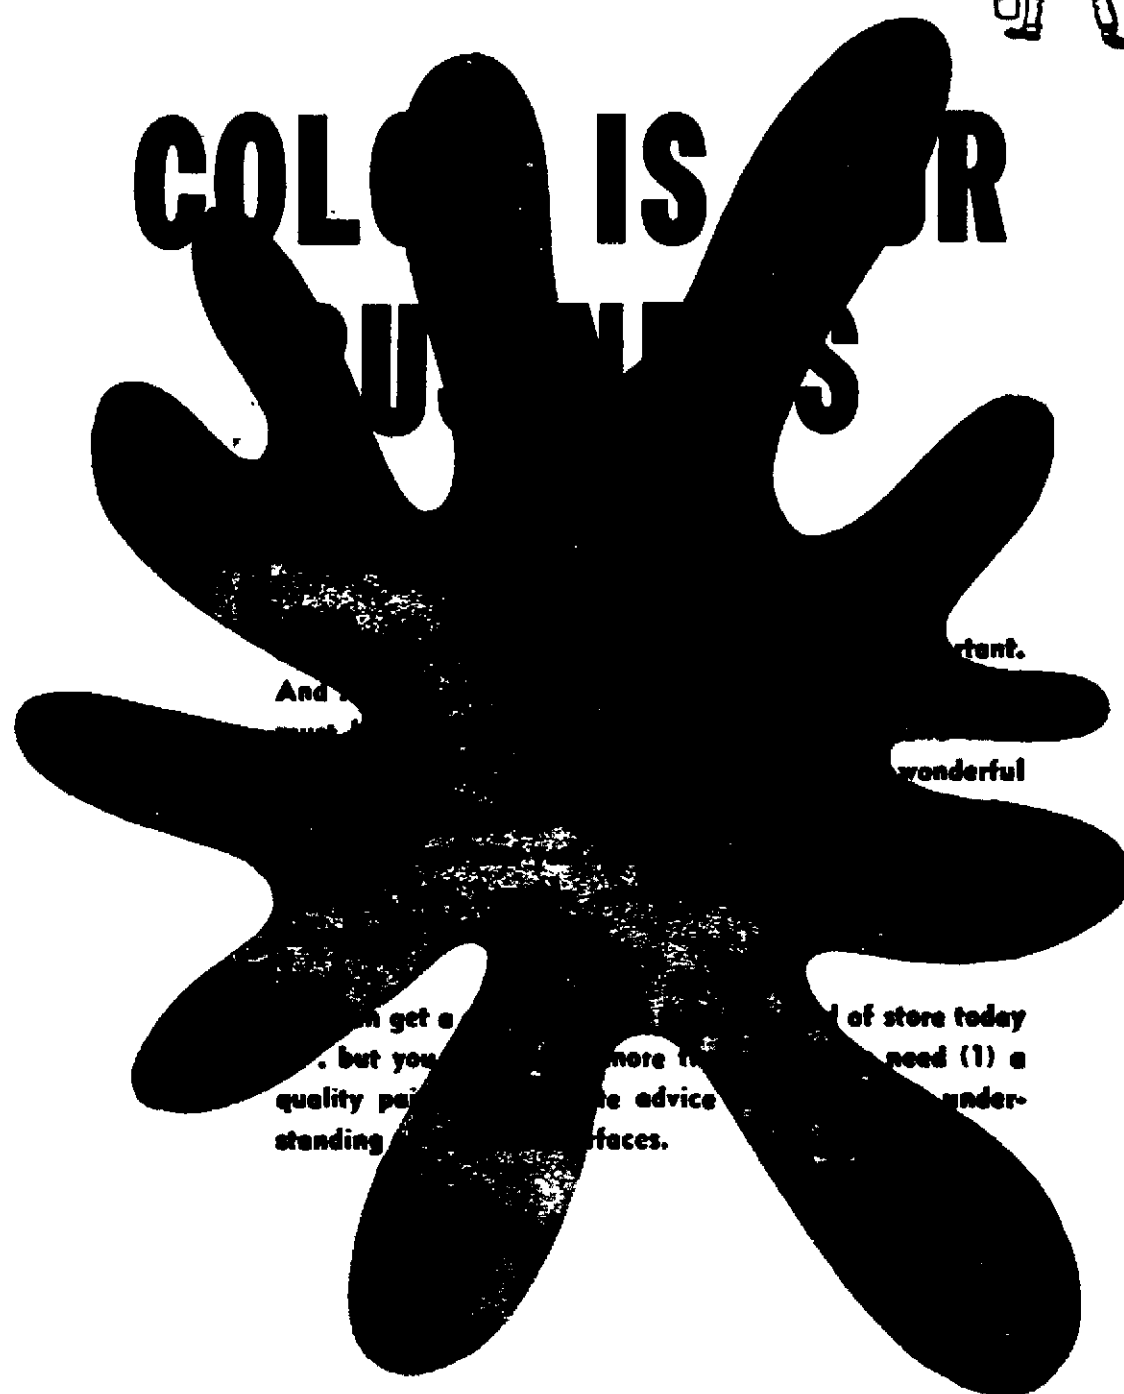

Paul Dodge was fund drive chairman; Don Hruska, members and funds chairman; Dan Goggin, business and professional groups; James Powers, industrial solicitations, and Mrs. V. I. Zeuthen, bank booths.

Hearing Thursday On Remodeling, Fence Permits

MENASHA — Public hearing on permits for a fence and remodeling a garage into a dwelling will be at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the city offices before the Board of Appeals. The board has been asked for the permits because Build-Wisconsin Presbyterian Homes Foundation, of which he is president.

One petitioner is Robert Evanstad, who seeks to remodel the two-story garage at 240 Chute St. into a dwelling. Merrill informed the board he was required to deny the permit because the garage lacks the required 30-foot rear and 6-foot side yards.

Robert Selingo, 819 Emily St., was denied a permit to erect a 4-foot woven wire fence out to the sidewalk line. The fence ordinance provides that fences more than 3 feet high must be set back at least 20 feet from the sidewalk and wire fences must be set back at least 50 feet in residential areas.

Drop 'Social Studies' Tag, Appleton School Board Says

Approves New Courses in History, Government, World Civilizations

Geography, history and government should be called by those names and not by "social studies," the Appleton Board of Education agreed last night as it revised the junior and senior high school courses.

The new history and government courses will be taught in junior highs next school year, while administrative problems are worked out in the senior high. New history and world civilizations courses at the senior high are expected to begin in September, 1962.

The greatest changes, reported the committee of teachers who set up the new program, are in ninth and 12th grades. Instead of citizenship disciplines, a course including wide and diverse topics, ninth graders will have a year course in local, county, state and national government with units also on the nature and history of democracy, government finance and foreign relations.

Required Course

Seniors now have no required social studies course. When the new courses go into effect, seniors will have to take a year course in world civilizations, which will be organized by areas of study and major ideas. "For instance," the teachers explained, "the idea of imperialism could focus in specific cases from the past and culminate in study of present African and Asian cultures."

The present course in world history, an elective for sophomores, juniors or seniors, will be dropped. Eighth and 11th graders will continue to study U.S. history. But now eighth graders will concentrate on the time before 1876 and only briefly survey recent history; juniors will review pre-1876 history the first quarter and spend three quarters on history since 1876.

The rest of the social studies program will remain essentially as it is — geography with eastern hemisphere emphasis in seventh grade; a year elective course in world geography in the senior high, and semester electives in psychology, economics, political science, sociology and philosophy for seniors.

Tools for Understanding

"Through social studies disciplines, hindsight illumines foresight and the present is appreciated because it is understood," the social studies teachers wrote in their recommendation. "Moreover, social studies, or better, history, geography and humanities fields, yield the tools for such understanding."

Pointing out the phrase "or better," board member A. Neil McLeod asked why the subjects had to be called social studies at all. Other board members said parents would better understand what their children were studying if report cards were labeled more specifically.

Work to Start On Neenah Reconstruction

Begin Rebuilding South Commercial St. Sometime This Week

NEENAH — Preliminary work on reconstruction of S. Commercial Street will begin this week, Mayor Chester S. Bell announced Monday afternoon. The project will start Monday. The street will be closed to traffic May 15.

Representatives of the state highway department will lay out reference lines this week to indicate the general outlines of the project. These lines, measured from the center of the street, will lie several feet back of the new curb. They are not to be confused with new sidewalk line. Mayor Bell said.

Schuette Builders, Manitowoc, was the general contract low bidder on the project at $278,175. The street will be rebuilt from Winnebago Avenue to a point south of Peckham Street, a distance of 1.98 miles.

Removal of trees is expected to start May 8, or sooner, to permit the Wisconsin-Michigan Gas and Power Co. to relocate gas mains; and install new service connections. The Wisconsin Telephone Co. is now installing underground cables.

All underground utility work will be completed by July 1. Cross connections will be maintained at Peckham Street, Cecil Street and Winnebago Avenue, with special arrangements for access to the Sentry Food Store and the Galloway Co.

Access to residences along Commercial Street will be cut off after May 15, except by special arrangements with the contractor. In case of emergencies, special arrangements will be made.

Ward Schutte, president, said that a householder who desires to use fill from the old street in front of his home may request the fill be deposited within his lot lines. Anyone wanting wood from the trees in front of his house must make prior arrangements with the contractor.

The entire project is expected to be completed by Oct. 1.

port bill S-991, introduced by Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, which would provide a tax credit for homeowners "and thus free nearly $4 billion to be used at the local level for educational needs."

Also passed was a resolution submitted by Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber and David Smith, both of Oshkosh, which called Communism a cancerous growth, socialism a step on the road to Communism and co-existence with Communism as meaning ultimate surrender.

It also called for "moral and material aid to only those nations standing resolutely with us in our struggle; a foreign policy that must be ours, not a compromising hedgehog; continually under the influence of others who may be paralyzed by fear, mass hysteria, internal subversion or pseudo-neutrality; a realistic security program among personnel of all of our foreign operations; a skepticism of the liberal opinion — leaders who have misled us time and again on the nature, course and shape of world events; and an end to publicly distributed misinformation which has taught us to shiver when Khrushchev roars and sigh with relief when he smiles."

Other Resolutions

In other resolutions the Winnebago County Republicans:

Endorsed the Mundt resolution to change the electoral college system so that one elector would be named from each congressional district and two from the state at large.

Lauded Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane for his "handling of the juvenile problem."

Commended Assemblyman William Steiger, Oshkosh, for his stand on the peace corps issue.

Praised the leadership of the state senator and three assemblymen from the county.

Backed the house Un-American Activities Committee and criticized Gov. Nelson for his position in regard to this committee.

Endorsed the McCarran Immigration Act as "the first line of defense to protect from Communist invasions."

Approved the Connally reservations act of the world court which reserves to the United States the right to determine what are domestic affairs and not subject to the world court.

Oshkosh Man Named by GOP To Head Party

Robert Murray New Winnebago County Republican Leader

WINNECONNE — An Oshkosh advertising executive, Robert Murray, was elected chairman of the Winnebago County Republican Party at its annual caucus at the village hall here Monday night. He succeeds Robert Wolangk, an Oshkosh industrialist.

Re-elected vice chairman was Ted Perry of Neenah while the new vice chairwoman is Mrs. Lorraine Jarrett of Oshkosh. Miss Ursula H. Cragg of Oshkosh was re-named secretary and William A. Gresenz, Neenah, was re-elected treasurer.

Named to the Executive Committee from the county at large are Myrl A. Zimmerman, Winnebago, Minor Harris, Rush Lake, Sherman Barnard, Omro, Miss Donna Brown, Menasha, and Palmer McConnell, Neenah. Ted Neely, Menasha, serve on the Executive Committee by virtue of their heading the Neenah and Menasha Republican organizations respectively. Also on the committee is Roger Soles, president of the Young Republicans of the county.

District Caucuses

Delegates and alternates are being chosen for the May 15 Sixth District meeting at Fond du Lac and the state convention at Eau Claire in June. Those present recorded their plans to attend and in what capacity.

Wollangk urged the hiring of an executive secretary on a part-time basis who will handle many of the detailed jobs and coordinate activities of the various Republican groups in the county. He also stressed the need for door-to-door and telephone campaigns for the elections.

State Airports Included in Federal Report

Suggests Facilities Be Improved; Cite Appleton, Oshkosh

Eighty-six airports in Wisconsin were included in a $1.1 billion national program recommended by the Federal Aviation Agency Monday for new construction and improvements.

FAA Administrator N. E. Hala, by emphasizing the airport plan is nothing more than a report to the Congress and the public on airport needs and does not mean that either the local community or government agrees to or is committed to begin the improvements or take part in financing them.

In Outagamie County, for instance, proposed improvements at the airport at Appleton were listed this way: "Land, extend and pave runways, pave taxiways and apron, lighting, relocate highway and utilities, obstruction removal." The county board's action of last week clearing the way for construction of a new multi-million dollar airport here obviously eliminates needs to plan for expansion of the present airport site. The national report was compiled before the board's action.

Airports in the Fox Cities area listed in the report and the proposed improvements are:

Clintonville: Land, site preparation, widen and extend runway, pave taxiway, lighting, obstruction removal.

Green Bay: Construction of public use facilities.

Neenah: Valley Airways, private, site undecided, land, runway, taxiway and apron.

Oshkosh: Site preparation, construct service road, lighting.

ton has 62 children in first to eighth grades and 30 in ninth to 12th grades. Mrs. Smith said. The youngsters now go to the district school at Sherwood for grade school and on a tuition basis to Kaukauna for high school.

Attachment of the area to Appleton in 1962 would mean a need for two additional elementary classrooms, Kurtz said. Because of immigration, attachment of other rural-suburban districts and parochial school activities, it is difficult to say how much space city schools will have by September, 1962, Kurtz said.

The new southeast elementary school, which will be closest to Harrison district, will not open until 1963.

"Every year we've got an impact," board President Mrs. Myrl N. Davis said. She said that on a long-range basis, it would be natural for the north shore of Winnebago to look to Appleton.

Between Harrison district and Appleton is Red Star District, whose petition for attachment to Appleton two years ago was turned down by the county committee because of opposition and fighting within the district.

Agreement Reached

Kurtz said last night that agreement apparently has been reached in Red Star District and that its people want to talk with the Appleton board.

The board didn't want to initiate conferences with surrounding districts or appear to be promoting attachment, but agreed to meet with anyone that isn't satisfied after talking with the city superintendent.

Ask FBI Help In Solution of Green Bay Theft

GREEN BAY — Physical evidence from a sizeable burglary discovered Sunday morning at the Red Owl store at 1219 S. Webster Ave., in Allouez was sent today to FBI headquarters in Washington, D.C., in the investigation of the case.

The sheriff's office reported a reduced-loss figure from the safe-cracking following an initial check by store officials. Subtracting of checks recovered at the scene placed total loss at $11,494.

The precision job at cutting a hole in the side of the "burglar proof" safe took place sometime between 9 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday. Although the door of the safe was untouched, the burglars removed the cash and checks in pouches from the hole which they made in the thick concrete-and-steel side of the safe.

More Training Needed, Dean Tells Teachers

UWM Official At 13-County OSC In-Service Program

OSHKOSH — In-service education is not the frosting on the cake but a very basic part of the over-all training of a teacher, Dean George Denmark of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee told more than 125 educators from 13 counties at Oshkosh State College.

The conference on in-service education was called by the State Department of Public Instruction. Dean Denmark said four years of college is not enough for training a teacher. There is a need for a continued in-service education after the teacher has been placed in a school system.

He also said the administrator should not look for a teacher just to fill a third grade vacancy but should seek one with additional capacity such as ability to teach remedial reading, foreign language, science and guidance counseling.

Different Abilities

A principal, in looking at his staff, should not have his teachers trained only for their grades but should seek those with different abilities to help other teachers in the entire school program. Supervisors also have an increased role in the in-service program. They should be more adult educators than individual counselors, the dean declared. They should be trained in the science of group action and learn more

ABC Report Cards OK'd In 9th Grade

Use of ABC report cards in ninth as well as seventh and eighth grades was approved by Appleton Board of Education Monday.

The board also asked that the senior high school evaluate the junior high cards and the HMU high school card during the year ahead, with the aim of reaching some uniformity among all city secondary schools.

Board member A. Neil McLeod said it is unnecessarily aggravating for parents to have to translate H, M, plus, M, minus and U to A, B, C, D and F.

But Supt. Royce E. Kurtz said that Appleton High School Principal Herbert H. Helble was satisfied with the HMU cards, which have been used with only two revisions in the last 20 years. Parents have not complained about the high school cards, it was pointed out.

"After 20 years you sort of give up," commented Mrs. Myrl N. Davis, board president.

Plans Announced

County to Take Part In CD Test Thursday

The plan for warning Outagamie County people of an emergency attack will have its first test at 3 p. m. Thursday.

Here, as all over the country, commercial radio and TV stations will go off the air. For half an hour Civil Defense warnings and information will go out over CONELRAD frequencies.

The new county warning system and the CONELRAD system are two different things. In the county system, people will be alerted by local Civil Defense officials at the places where they work, at schools, at hospitals and on the streets. The CONELRAD system will warn only those who tune their radios to CONELRAD frequencies.

If all goes well in Outagamie County, every community will be alerted of the simulated enemy attack within 15 minutes. The warning will come from Colorado and be funneled down through the county CD workers to local CD workers to the people.

It will take 15 seconds to transmit the attack warning to Appleton from Colorado Springs, Col., where the initial warning for the whole nation will originate. This initial warning goes to 400 U.S. communities.

From then, it will take the county CD system about 15 minutes to warn 30 municipalities in Outagamie County. The first six communities will be warned by radio. Then four of these communities will relay the warning to three other communities each. The rest of the county cities, villages and towns will be warned by telephone according to sequence lists. County CD officials in Waushara and Calumet Counties will also be alerted from Appleton.

Local Plans

After that, it will be up to local CD officers to put local emergency plans into effect. Emergency plans for the county and for almost all communities in the county are not yet complete. Outagamie County CD Director Lee J. Penny has drawn up a county survival plan which has been approved. It should be ready to work in September. When the county plan is ready, localities will be able to draw up plans to fit into the general county plan.

In Appleton Thursday, schools and plants and hospitals will be warned. Some schools and industries have said they will participate with simulated evacuation drills. Penny urges all homeowners to practice their own emergency plans during the drill.

On the air over CONELRAD stations information about fallout, shelter and evacuation will be aired. President Kennedy, the director of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization and the state director of that organization will give informational talks. CONELRAD frequencies are 640 and 1240 megacycles. CONELRAD will operate on reduced power so that homeowners can test the ability of portable radios to pick up the signal.

In the near future, Penny says, there will be a warning system for Appleton's commercial districts, either by public address or sirens.

Although a CD program has existed in the county since 1955, there was no warning system until last year. This will be the first test of the warning system in conjunction with a nationwide alert.

School Group To Study Plans

Six Educators Help Architect With New Elementary School

A six-member committee of teachers and principals has been appointed to work with architect Raymond N. LeVee on preliminary plans for the new southeast Appleton elementary school.

The group includes James Retson, Huntley School principal; Mrs. Joanne Edinger, Madison primary teacher; Mrs. Bernice Ahlschwede, Lincoln principal; Charles Lynch, McKinley principal; Miss Mary Ann Kalista, McKinley intermediate teacher, and Miss Viola Pelzer, Richmond principal.

Supt. Royce E. Kurtz also reported that Precour Construction Co., Oshkosh, has begun work on the Foster School addition. The company has a letter of intent from the city, but contracts will not be signed until bonds are issued.

The Board of Education approved spending $5,000 of the Huntley School building fund for library books. Even after spending this money, the school and others of Appleton will fall short of national standards of 10 books per child, Kurtz said. After buying library books, the fund will have $25,700 to be returned to the city treasury, said William R. Knuth, business affairs director.

Mother, 2 Girls Perish in Fire Near Pittsville

PITTSVILLE, Wis. (AP) — A mother and two daughters lost their lives early today when fire broke out in an upstairs bedroom of a frame home. The mother died as she rushed up to the girls' room in an effort to rescue them.

The victims were Mrs. Ellen Baum, 40, and her daughters, Sharon, 15, and Jane, 13. Three other members of the family escaped injury and three more children were not home. A volunteer fireman, Ronald Zeiher, was treated at a Marshfield hospital for smoke inhalation.

The fire broke out about 12:50 a. m. in the family's 2-story home along Highway 80 in this Wood County community.

Sharon and Jane were sharing an upstairs room and Harold Baum, his wife and two sons, John 5, and Fred, 17, were sleeping downstairs.

Mrs. Baum went to the girls' room as Baum escorted the two boys outside and telephoned the fire department. Firemen from Pittsville fought the blaze which was confined to the one room, although smoke and water damage was heavy. Marshfield sent a rescue unit and Wisconsin Rapids an ambulance.

Senate Ends Hearings On Menominee Indians

Chairman Gives No Indication Of What Action Will be Taken

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Subcommittee Monday concluded hearings on Menominee Indian negotiations with its chairman giving no indication as to what action would be taken on any of the several proposals the group has under consideration.

With formal termination date, April 30, only a matter of days away, the legislative situation regarding the tribe has reached a peak in entanglement and confusion.

This situation, as it shaped up Monday night is this:

The House interior and insular affairs has amended a bill introduced by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield, which does not extend the termination date, as did the original Laird bill but does approve $2½ million loan for industrial expansion and development, and authorizes grants totalling nearly that same amount for health, education and welfare projects and construction of sanitation facilities.

6-Year Plan

The health and welfare projects would be "phased out" over a six-year period, with the federal government providing 100 per cent of the costs the first year after termination, 80 per cent the second, and finally, 10 per cent on the sixth year.

The Laird bill is scheduled to come up before the House May 1, unless the Senate in the meantime approves a measure extending the termination date, according to Chairman Aspinall of the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Its chairman, Wayne N. Aspinall, (D-Colo.), incidentally, told Laird that his committee "would give the senate committee every opportunity to change its mind regarding delay of termination of federal control. If such legislation affecting the termination is approved before May 1, then the House also will recommend a corresponding termination date. Otherwise, the committee will bring out the bill providing for federal aid to the tribe after termination."

However, the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs committee has devoted very little time during its hearings to consideration of the house bill.

Witnesses Quizzed

Monday, as in previous hearings, the members of the senate subcommittee quizzed both tribal and government witnesses about the operation of the saw mill, the necessity for formation of a new Menominee County, health costs, Wisconsin laws governing the county, and the financial and corporate make-up of the Menominee Enterprises, Inc., which is charged with operation of the tribal assets after termination.

Gerald Grignon spoke for the tribe as did Al Dodge, and asked for delay in termination of federal supervision and financial aid. Both answered detailed questions on saw mill operation and prospects for income from any future recreational development.

However, all the members of the senate subcommittee indicated their continued dissatisfaction with two elements of the Menominee termination program:

Object to County

First, the establishment of a separate county, to which they objected largely on the grounds of cost of operation. Second, the creation of the Menominee Enterprises as a corporation, to be controlled by a trust for 30 years, instead of by members of the tribe.

The members of the subcommittee, including Chairman Frank Church, (D-Idaho), and senators Clinton P. Anderson, (D-N.M.), chairman of the full committee and Gordon Allott, (R-Colo.), all appeared to be in agreement that both the county and the proposed corporation would cost too much in administration.

A portion of the Wisconsin law was read and discussed stating that — the corporation would be created only when the Secretary of Interior published the termination in the federal register. The possibility of blocking creation of the corporation was suggested by committee members.

Figures Given

Dr. Thomas Shinnick of the Public Health Service offered figures on the cost to tribe health problems after termination. He said total costs for medical care and other public health and sanitation projects would come to an estimated $171,000 annually to be paid by the Menominee County.

Albert H. Stevenson, chief, environmental sanitation branch, division of Indian health, told the committee that the tribe needed an estimated total of $840,000 for water and sanitation facilities.

Dr. Shinnick, a native of Rice Lake, Wis., is a career public health officer. Based in Washington, he has made several investigative trips to the Menominee Reservation to study health conditions there.

WISCONSIN: State of Opportunity!

A GOOD PLACE

...to live!
...to work!
...to do business!

All Americans are glad to live in America. Some are happy to live in one place, some to live in another ... but 3,951,777 people are happy to live in the Badger State ... and that many people just can't be wrong! Some like the friendliness — some like the climate — some like the opportunities for business prosperity and high-wage employment — some like the cultural aspects of the state — some like the recreation and vacation areas — and some — well, some like it because they're "at home" — in the State of Opportunity! But greatness is not just a state of mind, it is also a standard of accomplishment ... and here are facts that prove it:

Fact: Wisconsin leads the nation in the production of paper and paper products — an $800,000,000 industry!

Fact: Wisconsin leads the nation in the production of cheese, marketing one half of the national output and 7 times more than the next highest producing state!

Fact: Wisconsin is indisputably "America's Dairyland". The Badger State produces nearly 18 billion pounds of milk annually!

Fact: Wisconsin leads the nation in the processing of peas, beets and sweet corn, and is one of the leading states in processing other produce such as snap beans, lima beans, kraut, pickled cucumbers, sour cherries and cranberries!

Fact: Wisconsin attracted 92 NEW industries to the state in 1960, and inspired 172 plant additions for a total plant construction of over five and one-quarter million square feet!

Fact: Wisconsin ranks 11th in the nation in the value of manufactured products, leading the nation not only in the production of paper, cheese and other dairy products, but producing higher than the average amount of the nation's total meat products, lumber and wood products, leather and leather products, nonferrous foundry and fabrication metal products!

Fact: Wisconsin supplies almost 100 per cent of the malted milk powder in the nation!

Fact: Wisconsin industry is served by 12 major railroads — 10,000 miles of lines. Fast, modern passenger service extends across the state from Chicago to Minneapolis-St. Paul and on to the Pacific Northwest. 100 common carrier truck lines carry freight into, through and out of the state on 2,200 miles of arterial highways, including almost 500 miles on the National Interstate and Defense Highway system!

Fact: Wisconsin has 14 Great Lakes ports open to world-wide shipping by means of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Car ferries carry whole train loads of freight across Lake Michigan, and Wisconsin can boast of 6 Mississippi barge ports. The state has 550 miles of Great Lakes shore line, 9,000 inland lakes, and an extensive "Bay" area in the northeastern section!

Fact: Wisconsin has a scenic system of highways and byways traversing 16 million acres of forest land. Migratory flyways for ducks and geese range from the Mississippi river to Lake Michigan, providing some of the finest game bird hunting in the nation. Some 1,500 trout streams contribute to the fact that Wisconsin issues more fishing licenses than any other state in the nation!

Fact: Wisconsin is rapidly taking its place as one of the top winter playgrounds of America, with over 50 major ski areas, skating rinks, toboggan runs and chalets over the state!

For Further Proof.... consider these facts!

Wisconsin's Retail Sales of $4,786,593,000 in 1960, rank it 13th in the nation!

Wisconsin's bank deposits in 1960 totaled a huge $4,661,328,756!

Wisconsin's effective buying income of $7,045,638,000 is well over two per cent of the United States total!

Wisconsin's income per household is $6,099, very much above the national average of $5,747!

IN THE FOX CITIES

Fox Cities population ZOOMED to nearly 122,000, up 40% from 1950 to 1960; Appleton swelled to 48,411, up 42.5% in same period!

Employment of wage earners in manufacturing in Appleton-Neenah-Menasha, as well as average weekly hours worked, has been way over both state and national averages this year!

Department Store Sales in Appleton have shown substantial increase in the first quarter of 1961! — Over the comparable period of 1960.

Retail Sales for Appleton-Neenah-Menasha, hit $113,961,000 for 1960!

Buying power per family for Appleton-Neenah-Menasha was $6,414, that for Appleton alone, $6,527 in 1960 ... both substantially higher than the national average of $6,385!

Effective buying income for Appleton-Neenah-Menasha was $158,438,000.

UW Professor's Script To Get Color Production

Top-Flight Cast to Enact Prize Play
By Jerry C. McNeely on NBC, May 5

BY JINGO
Friday, May 5, will be a big day for the University of Wisconsin faculty. A product of one of its number will have the widest possible audience for its premiere.

Jerry C. McNeely, presumably the UW faculty's fair-haired boy at the moment, will see his prize winning play, "The Joke and the Valley," produced on NBC in the Hallmark slot — in color no less! Prof. McNeely won the second prize in the show's script contest but had the bonus award of having it produced. The show is laid in America a century ago and involves an idealistic stranger who wanders into a valley dominated by two practical jokers. Their joke on him backfires.

In addition to having a national audience at a prime time, McNeely's 90-minute script will have a top rate cast.

Dean Stockwell will play the stranger and the two jokers will be Keenan Wynn and Thomas Mitchell. The feature players have as commendable credits as the stars.

It is hoped that Prof. McNeely uses this start to exemplify the state's motto of "Forward!"

Perhaps the finest commemorative observation of the Civil War centennial in the area so far was the week-long program produced at Menasha High School by William Herzog of the social studies department. The schedule of appropriate films, lectures and music was climaxed with the presentation of certificates to pupils who are descendants of Civil War veterans—including a descendant of Robert E. Lee, himself.

One of the pupils honored is the great-granddaughter of one of the first men to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He was William Knight, the engineer on the abortive Andrews Raid to steal a locomotive from Big Shanty, Ga., in 1862. Walt Disney immortalized the chase in a movie a few years ago and in Disney's well tested method he'll use the film for his ABC-TV slot. On May 7 and 14, the Andrews Raiders will be the subject of "Walt Disney Presents." The movie was made, despite other records available, from the memoirs of one of the raiders later labeled a liar and perhaps worse by the rest of the team. At any rate, the MacMurray has the lead role of Prof. Ned Brainard, the scientist who discovers an incredible anti-gravity substance called "flubber" (flying rubber).

OSC Players To Offer Greek Drama

OSHKOSH — Theatergoers will have the opportunity to see a modern-dress version of the old Greek tragedy "Antigone" this week when it is presented by the Oshkosh State College drama department in the campus Little Theater.

The tragedy has been given a streamlined appearance by Jean Anouilh, noted French playwright. Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m., Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Playing the title role in the play will be Carol Kroll, New London. Others who have stage roles include James Urban, Kewanee; Joan Keener, Amherst; Ralph Drexler, Oshkosh; Louis Marohn, Oshkosh; Valene Pupak, Waukegan; Robert Reid, Menomonee Falls; Charles Buchman, Hortonville; Gary Longrie, Green Bay; Patrick Boland, Oshkosh; Judy Herrie, Oshkosh; and Carol Kofarnus, Kiel.

In adapting the play to the modern period, Anouilh has preserved the eloquence and power of the original and has made it, more palatable for the modern audience. The set, costumes, and language of the play are all present in modern terms without sacrificing any of the essential beauty of the drama.

When presented on Broadway and in Europe and England, it was received as one of the most noteworthy plays of the century. "People sometimes shy away from anything identified as cultural and classic," said the director, Miss Gloria Link. "They need not with 'Antigone,' for this is probably one of the most powerful and rewarding of dramas for both the audience. IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY of our son and brother, Thomas Theisen, who left us one year ago today, April 25.
Your days pass slowly—one by one, but your life is always very near—You know we shall never forget you rest.
It's now a year and yet we mourn The day you from our lives were torn.
Your face is always very near—You know we shall never forget you rest.
Your books, your sports, your games and things Your faith in what tomorrow brings Are memories we alone can share Until the day we meet you there.
Your friends and ours, and kin are kind and bring us blessed peace of mind.

Latin Americans May Lose Equality

Strove for It, Now Jeopardize It by Failing to Oppose Castro

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

White

WASHINGTON — The Latin American nations are inviting the destruction of that equal place in directing Western hemisphere affairs which took them so long to achieve. In refusing to accept any part of the responsibility which must march alongside great sanctions of the Monroe Doctrine. This is no mere personal prediction, this is said on very high authority. So by leaving the United States isolated against the great peril to all the Americas in Castro Cuba, the Latin Americans are risking a new isolationism for themselves. Only Organization The O.A.S. is the only instrumentality ever raised within the western hemisphere to give dignity to the smallest nations. It may be dying, a victim of those very nations which had demanded just such a forum. President Kennedy is now lonely among the leaders of the new world. Almost alone among them he insists upon protecting a hemisphere which would otherwise within months be mortally exposed to Soviet-controlled rockets mounted in Havana. He has thus far permitted the hands of his country to be tied by the objections of other American nations and of our European allies to any course in Cuba which would secure the whole free world's safety. But all of these people should now know that Kennedy will not remain handcuffed forever. JFK Didn't Move Whatever may be said, the president did not initiate the counter-revolutionary invasion of Cuba which—in its first phase only—came to grief. True, he looked kindly upon it. He wanted to give every opportunity for Cuban to this hemisphere. It requires no consultation with anybody. The Latin Americans now have a last chance to take up their share of the common duty. They have a final opportunity to consent to a common front against Castroism within the Organization of American States. If they do not do so, President Kennedy will then have only one way open to him—to call up the least of which is the execution in Cuba of American citizens by Castro "justice." This is the sort of episode which can change everything. And it was because the president foresaw the probable failure of the invasion, it may be authoritatively stated, that he used precisely the language he did use in his reply to Nikita Khrushchev's threatening note. Protect Hemisphere "In the event of any military intervention (in Cuba) by outside force," Kennedy told Khrushchev, "we will immediately honor our obligations under the inter-American system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression." This passage was long gone over at the White House—and with all awareness of all its implications. Deliberately, it did not limit our reaction to that organization's veto. The sentence was meant to be read by Latin Americans as well as by Moscow. It represents the settled determination of this administration. It should be realized, moreover, that this was the language of a man who up to this climactic moment had avoided all "tough" words in Cold War notes. As recently as the conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan the president personally struck out two references in their communique which seemed unwisely harsh. The point is that Kennedy does not lightly use language of the kind quoted above. (Copyright, 1961)

Water Softener Men Want to Be Licensed

Code for Installers Offered to Assembly By Committee Head

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Water softener installers want to be added to the list of state-licensed and qualified crafts and professions. A state code for licensing the admission of installers and regulating their work has been offered in the legislature by Assemblyman R. E. Peterson of Waupaca. at the request of the Wisconsin Water Softener Service Operators Association. Peterson is chairman of the assembly judiciary committee, one of the most powerful committees of the house. Would Affect 400 The licensing bill would not cover plumbers, who are already licensed and regulated by the state in a present chapter of the state laws. But if enacted it would prohibit the installation of softening equipment or accessories by anyone except a licensed installer or a plumber. The state health department estimates that up to 400 installers topics, ranging through a spectrum of politics, national and international affairs. The award, accompanied by a $1,000 check, is presented annually at the banquet session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The association held its yearly session in Washington last week. Newsman 35 Years Marlow, 58, has been a newspaperman for 35 years. A panel of five newspaper executives unanimously cited him for "consistent outstanding reporting and interpreting of the Washington scene." His daily news analysis column is published by approximately 400 AP member newspapers in the United States. Cited for honorable mention were a pair of two-man writing teams: Fletcher Knebel and Charles Bailey of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and the Minneapolis Star and Tribune for a series on the Potsdam Papers; Knight Papers Win Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pincus of the Knight newspapers for a series on congressional expense accounts. The award, honoring the memory of one of the capital's most respected correspondents, has been given each year since 1945 for the previous year's best reporting and good craftsmanship, characteristic of Raymond Clapper. The Kansas-born Clapper was killed in a plane crash in the Pacific in 1944. He was 51. Clapper became a political commentator for the Scripps-Howard newspapers and the United Feature Syndicate in 1936. His daily column had an estimated readership of 10 million.

would be subject to examination and licensure. The bill provides for the administration of the licensing system, including the qualifications of applicants. The measure would set up a proposed law would not set up state board of licensing exam-specifications on schooling or experience, unlike some other licensing statutes. The board would also be empowered to revoke licenses for violations of its orders and rules. The bill would prohibit any local ordinance for the regulation or qualification of installers.
